N.Y. STRIKERS SPURN A VOTE

9 Newspapers' Tieup Tightens

...Mediator's Plan Rejected

New York (AP)—The striking newspaper delivery men's union reversed itself Tuesday night and announced it will not vote Thursday on a $7 wage package already rejected by the union membership.

The announcement was made by Sam Feldman, president of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union, following the sudden breakup of a union membership meeting. Feldman said the deliverers will continue the strike they began a week ago against the city's daily papers.

His statement was a reversal of the union negotiating committee's agreement earlier Tuesday night to resubmit the package offer to the membership.

Union Atty. Asher Schwartz said the deliverers had decided by an overwhelming majority not to vote again on the disputed contract offer.

80% Estimate

He estimated the majority vote as 80% of the 1,500 workers present at the noisy meeting.

The original ballot on the package offer was 877 to 772 against. About 4,500 union members are eligible to vote.

Some of the men carried signs protesting against any reballoting. There were boos for Feldman — apparently from the same group opposing a new ballot.

The nation's top labor conciliator, Federal Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan, had obtained from the striking union an agreement for a new vote. But Tuesday night's membership ballot canceled that effort.

The $7 a week wage raise would be spread over two years. It previously had been accepted by editorial employes of the papers.

Firm On Offer

Publishers have stood firm on the offer throughout the strike. They contended a new vote would bring out a larger turnout of delivery men and insure acceptance of the offer—and an end to the strike.

The city's newsstands have been bare of local papers since shortly after the strike began late Dec. 9.

Aside from radio and television newscasts, New York has been virtually isolated from news of the world since wage and other contract deadlocks precipitated the walkout.

In accepting Finnegan's proposal for a new vote, the union said it was "aware of the prospective suffering and substantial economic losses which a continued strike will mean to our members and 15,000 other employes in the industry and to the general public."

2-Million a Week

The newspaper industry in New York employs 22,000 persons—a few of whom still are working on a standby basis—with a 2 million dollar a week payroll.

The impact of the strike also was starting to tell on the city's merchandisers, now at the peak of the Christmas sales season. In a statement during the day, Macy's department store said:

"Last week we were doing all right except for our mail and telephone business, but now we're starting to feel it. If the strike lasts much longer we may have to go into radio and TV beyond the normal pattern."

Attorneys Clash At Recount Hearing

Demos Protest Evidence Admitted; 5 More Witnesses Questioned

By Don Walton

Opposing attorneys bristled at one another Tuesday as 5 more witnesses, including Douglas County Election Commissioner Herman E. Kuppinger, paraded to the stand at election contest hearings.

Patience worn thin, 3 Democratic lawyers and a Republican legal duo (bolstered Tuesday by the appearance of GOP trouble shooter Rush Clarke of North Platte) traded heated remarks as the drawn-out proceedings bounded into a legal roadblock and actually halted for a time.

Split over the admissibility of evidence not directly pertaining to the gubernatorial race under contest, hearings resumed on the basis that evidence of improper counting procedure on races other than the governor was admissible despite Democratic protest.

It was left to the Legislature, which will consider the evidence presented at the hearings, to decide whether such testimony should be taken into consideration.

Errors Discovered

Meanwhile, Kuppinger introduced evidence of "a large number" of vote tabulation errors discovered by the Douglas County canvassing board.

The race for governor was involved "several times," he said.

Kuppinger, who will resume his testimony Wednesday morning, listed some 21 precincts which had shown tabulating errors.

He named 5 which involved errors in the gubernatorial vote. One indicated 4 more votes totaled than ballots cast for governor (Anderson winning the precinct by a 190 to 131 count) and another showed 7 more votes tabulated than cast (Brooks winning 141 to 77).

Difference In Figures

Almost all errors, he testified, involved a difference in the tabulation figure written on the tally sheet and the number of tallies marked on the sheet. Some were not tallied at all, he said.

However, he noted, in some precincts this is "a method they've used for years."

As debate erupted over whether to admit evidence other than that directly pertaining to the gubernatorial race, Clarke triggered a heated exchange.

"Is counsel (for contestee Ralph Brooks) afraid to have a recount of the vote... There is no way you can tell who won without a recount... Brooks may have won by more," Clarke suggested.

Democratic attorney Joseph Ginsburg of Lincoln rose to reply: "I agree that there is no doubt that Mr. Brooks would emerge with a greater majority... It appears that counsel (for contestor Joseph Wishart) is completely stumped... I challenge counsel to point out a specific statute that gives a candidate the right to have a recount merely if they suspect error or just because the election is close.

"A contest must have points and grounds," Ginsburg said. "And counsel must substantiate points and grounds for that recount."

Republican attorney Robert Nelson of Lincoln replied that "the sole purpose of the hearing is to prove reasonable grounds that errors do exist."

'Error Possibility'

Clarke noted that "there is a strong possibility that error crept into the counting of ballots."

When contestor representative Chauncey Barney of Lincoln and contestee representative Robert Conrad of Genoa split over admissibility of evidence, Clarke jokingly asked: "What do we do now?"

"Quit," came the quick suggestion of Democratic attorney Bernard Boyle of Omaha, his party's national committeeman.

Boyle later clashed with Nelson when the Democrat pointed out that Nebraska election clerks "are such as we can trust them."

'Not Meant'

Nelson objected that the contestors never meant to imply that they were not.

With the hearing of testimony from 10 witnesses thus far (and contestor Joseph Wishart of Lincoln), this procedure has developed:

Republican attorneys have found examples of vote-counting practices not always within legal restriction.

They have pointed to a lack of check on original reading of the votes in some instances, and in other to proximity of the counting table to the polling booth, an exchange of duties by clerks and judges, carelessness in administering oaths, leaving uncounted ballots untended in an unlocked room during lunch periods and allowing people other than members of the counting boards to be present when votes were tabulated.

They claim such practices are sufficient to allow the probability of error.

Democratic questioning has developed that all errors mentioned in tabulation have been corrected, that clerks and judges were following practices long since established in their precincts and that checks on reading and tabulating did occur in numerous instances.

In addition, Democrats claim that Supreme Court decisions exist which hold that departures from counting methods prescribed by law are not sufficient to invalidate votes.

B58 Down; 1 Dead

'Hustler' Travels Twice Speed Of Sound

Tucumcari, N.M. (AP) — A supersonic, 4-engined B58, one of the nation's newest class of bombers, crashed Tuesday near Tucumcari. The pilot was killed and two other crew members were injured.

The big delta-winged plane had left its home base at Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex., earlier in the day to test navigation equipment at medium altitude.

A spokesman at Carswell said the pilot was killed in bailing from the plane. He was identified as Maj. Richard D. Smith, 40, survived by his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Smith of Columbus, Ohio.

The spokesmen identified the injured as Lt. Col. George A. Gradel, 37, of Fort Worth, the navigator; and Capt. Daniel J. Holland, 38, also of Fort Worth, defense systems operator.

Picked Up

The injuries Gradel and Holland suffered were not known immediately. Both parachuted and were picked up separately and flown by helicopter to a hospital at Canyon Air Force Base, Clovis, N.M.

It was the first crash of a Hustler bomber, which travels more than twice the speed of sound — between 1,400 and 1,500 miles an hour.

A helicopter from Cannon landed at the crash scene, about 35 miles southeast of Tucumcari, and the pilot radioed back to base that the pieces were so small he could not identify the craft.

The supersonic B58 is produced by Convair at Fort Worth.

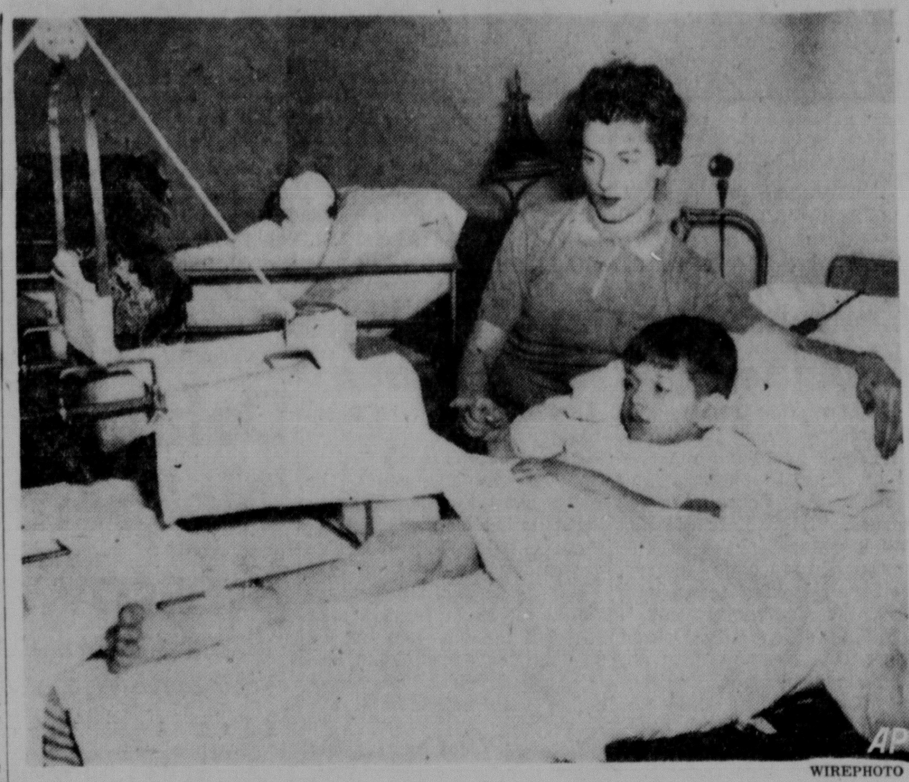

An Air Force spokesman said the number built so far for the Air Force was classified, but a congressman has disclosed 7 had been delivered for testing purposes.

For several months a B58 has been flying between Fort Worth and Kirtland AFB, Albuquerque, with a pass over White Sands missile range in southern New Mexico.

Practice Bombing

Crewmen have been practicing dropping a large pod, which fits on the belly of the supersonic bomber, as it passes over the missile range.

At Kirtland, the pod was fitted for a nuclear warhead.

Anderson In Line For State Post

To Be Named If Purchase Agent Position Vacant

A. CLIFFORD ANDERSON

A. Clifford Anderson of Lincoln will be appointed state purchasing agent by Democratic Gov.-elect Ralph Brooks if it is determined that the term of Tom Coffey expires Jan. 8, 1959 as Democratic officials claim, it was learned Tuesday.

Coffey has a memorandum written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer which indicates that Coffey's term does not expire until Jan., 1961.

Meyer explained however, that the memorandum "merely draws a conclusion on the basis of certain facts given to me" and does not have any legal effect.

'Intend To Serve'

Coffey told The Star "it is my intention to serve the remainder of my term. That is customary."

He declined to say whether he would resign if asked to do so.

The memorandum was not requested by Coffey, both he and Meyer said.

Anderson, Democratic county chairman and one of Brooks' most active supporters, is known to be in line for a key position in the new governor's administration.

Democrats claim that Nebraska statutes provide that the unexpired term which Coffey was named to fill in 1956 expires Jan. 8, 1959.

They say Coffey's bond also expires on that date.

Unnamed Republicans claim Coffey's interim appointment was extended to a "regular" appointment by the 1957 Legislature and runs through Jan. 8, 1961.

Meyer declined to name who asked him to draw a memorandum regarding the controversy. He said it was "merely an office communication" he sent to Attorney General C. S. Beck on the matter.

Meyer said if Brooks should appoint someone to the post and Coffey would decline to resign, it would require an opinion from the Attorney General's office to determine which person should hold the office.

The 1957 Legislature set the salary of the state purchasing agent at $7,500 a year.

Anderson, 53-year-old Lincoln realtor, told The Star: "In my close association with Mr. Brooks during the past many months I have grown to admire and respect his abilities. I would deem it a pleasure and a privilege to serve in whatever capacity it should be my opportunity to serve his administration and the state of Nebraska."

Chairman of the Lancaster County Democratic Central Committee since 1956, Anderson has long been active in Democratic circles in the county and state.

Democratic nominee as lieutenant governor in 1952, he also was elected a delegate to the Democratic national conventions in 1948, 1952 and 1956.

A native Nebraskan, Anderson was born at Waverly and graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1930. He is married to the former Peggy Spooner and they have two children, a son Bob, 16, a junior at Northeast, and a daughter, Sharon, 13, who attends Northeast Junior High.

D. Alford Gets Snub By Demos

Not Invited To Party Caucus

Washington (UPI)—House Democrats failed to invite Arkansas segregationist Dale Alford to their party caucus Jan. 6, it was disclosed Tuesday, paving the way for a decision on whether he will be considered a member of the Democratic majority in the new Congress.

Alford insists he is a Democrat. But he defeated the party's regular nominee, Rep. Brooks Hays, on a last-minute write-in campaign in the Little Rock congressional election.

Alford's name was not included in a list of Democrats invited to the party's caucus. The meeting is to be held the day before the opening of the House session Jan. 7.

Certain Vote

His exclusion meant an almost certain vote in the caucus on whether he should be entitled to privileges of a member of the majority. Such privileges include patronage and accumulation of seniority toward committee assignment.

Alford's membership in the House was not at stake. But it could be challenged as a result of a complaint lodged with the Special House Elections Committee that fraud and conspiracy figured in his election.

The committee is expected to reach a final decision Wednesday on whether to investigate the complaint. Several members said there was no doubt it would decide to do so.

Twin Thors Fired

War Rockets Leave Both Coasts

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A Thor intermediate range ballistic missile thundered toward space Tuesday night as a climax to the first double-barreled rocket shoot from both American coasts.

The huge war rocket streaked into the black Florida sky 4 hours and 15 minutes after another Thor had been launched over the Pacific to christen the new military missile training center at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The twin launching of the 65-foot rockets some 3,000 miles apart was another milestone in the United States' stepped up missile program.

Where the Vandenberg launching—the first by a military crew—had the atmosphere of a Hollywood movie premier, the Cape shoot was "just another one" for the veteran Douglas Aircraft team here.

The Cape Thor—fired as part of the closeout phase of the Air Force IRBM research and development program—appeared to perform perfectly.

Over Pacific

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — An Air Force crew lobbed a combat-type Thor missile 1,500 miles westward over the Pacific missile range Tuesday.

The deadly white dart rose slowly from its launching pad at this Strategic Air Command base, then gathered speed swiftly. Three minutes later it was out of sight and racing toward its target area at speeds approaching 10,000 m.p.h.

The success of the shot was strong ammunition for America's campaign to secure missile bases overseas. Thor bases have been set up in the British isles and negotiations are underway for bases in other countries.

Warned

Russia has warned its smaller neighbors it would regard as an unfriendly act any decision to allow the United States to set up missile bases close to the Iron Curtain. Tuesday's demonstration of America's missile readiness is expected to influence some of the reluctant nations.

The 65-foot high Thor was fired by the same type of crew that would launch it in the field under combat conditions.

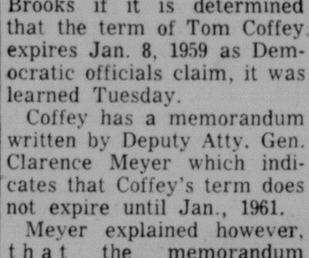

It was the first launching at this new Air Force missile base and the free world's first firing of a ballistic under push button warfare circumstances. The 11-man crew fired the missile only 11 minutes after starting to fill it with fuel.

In addition to the initial gift, the society voted to review the needs of the fund each year for the next 4 years to determine further participation in the project.

Andy Knutson Says Duped Into Signing 'Coya Come Home' Letter

HIS WIFE CALLS FOR 'JUSTICE'

By Tom Nelson

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Coya Knutson's husband, Andy, testified Tuesday he signed the now-famous "Coya come home" letter last May because her political opponents told him she was "running around" with her handsome young assistant.

He said he now believes the rumors were false and part of a political scheme. What's more, he said he had changed his mind and now would like to see his wife stay in Congress. Mrs. Knutson, defeated for re-election last month, blamed the letter for her loss.

Knutson's testimony clashed with a statement by James Turgeon, Democratic chairman in Mrs. Knutson's home county.

Says Andy Requested

Turgoen said in Oklee, Minn., he was the writer of the "Coya come home" letter and that he wrote it at Adny's request.

Andy, Turgeon said, asked him to type several copies of the letter in the form of a press release and told him what he wanted said. Turgeon told newsmen he "obliged" because he considered Knutson a "good friend." The May 4 letter said Mrs. Knutson's political career was destroying her husband's happiness. It appealed to her to come home to Minnesota.

Mrs. Knutson, following Andy as a witness in a House Elections subcommittee hearing, appealed to that group to "see to it that justice is done."

The subcommittee must decide whether to stage a full-scale investigation of her charge that the letter was part of a "malicious conspiracy" and a fraud on the voters.

The blonde 45-year-old congresswoman, wearing a long-sleeved blue wool dress for her 15-minute appearance, said the stories about her and her 30-year-old assistant, William Kjeldahl, were "absolutely false."

"I wanted everything out in the open," she said. "I wanted the people of the United States to see to it that justice is done."

CHAMBER INSTALLS OFFICERS

Centennial Noted As City Chamber Gavel To Dobson

As out-going Chamber of Commerce President Harold F. Hoppe presented the gavel of office to his successor Robert A. Dobson, both agreed, "Regardless of what has happened in the first 99 years of Lincoln's history, we're all looking forward to 1959, the Centennial year."

Taking office with Dobson were Dr. Norman Carlson, first vice president, succeeding Ray Osborn; John P. Morrow, second vice president, re-elected; J. Vaulx Risser, third vice president, succeeding Ervin E. Peterson; William Gold II, treasurer, succeeding John R. Hedge; and Archie J. Baley, secretary, re-elected, all for one-year terms.

Directors

Installed for 3-year terms as directors were George B. Cook, A. James Ebel, Freeman E. Everett, Harry R. Haynie, Thomas R. Pansing, F. A. "Art" Reed and E. N. "Jack" Thompson, succeeding Robert Ammon, Ray Osborn, John R. Hedge, Ervin E. Peterson, James Stuart and Tom Sweeney. Hoppe will remain on the board another year, replacing Burnham Yates.

The retiring executive declared that 1958 saw many advances for Lincoln and that 10 years from now the year will be remembered more for its good events than for those which now seem bad.

He pointed out that decisions in the 7-state aviation case gave Lincoln direct, rapid access to northwest Nebraska for the first time in history, as well as air connections with all principal cities of the state and neighboring states.

Advancements

Other advancements he noted were the beginning of construction on the giant Interstate Highway; the successful effort to keep the Veterans Administration regional office in Lincoln; the entry of the city into the 3-I baseball league; and the level of employment which was higher than the national average.

Dobson, speaking for his fellow officers, declared, "We won't make any rash promises, but all signs point to further progress for Lincoln.

"The Chamber's job is to help direct that progress and to advance it at the most rapid rate which can be attained by the determined, organized effort of Lincoln's business community."

West Rejects Demand They Leave W. Berlin

Paris (AP)—A solid rank of North Atlantic Treaty powers Tuesday pledged full support to the Western Big 3 in their determination to reject Russia's demand that they get out of West Berlin.

Then they promptly declared their willingness to negotiate with the Russians on Berlin, and on Germany as a whole, security, and disarmament.

In a communique issued at the end of their first day's meeting, the 15 nations declared:

"The member states of NATO could not approve a solution of the Berlin question which jeopardized the right of the 3 Western powers to remain in Berlin as long as their responsibilities require it."

Russia Responsible

Moreover, they declared the Soviet Union would be wholly responsible for any hampering of traffic between the West and the former German capital.

"The two million inhabitants of West Berlin have just reaffirmed in a free vote their overwhelming approval and support of that position," they said.

Buying 16-Acre Tract For School At 67th & Sumner Given Approval

By Virgil Falloon

The purchase of a 16-acre tract for a proposed elementary school at 67th and Sumner was approved by the Board of Education Tuesday.

It is being purchased for $35,000 or about $2,180 an acre from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Petz of 6850 South, subject to a final survey.

Supt. Steven N. Watkins said approximately 10 acres would be used for the school and playgrounds and the remainder would probably be sold later as residential property.

The L-shaped tract is bounded by Sumner and South, 67th and 70th with the southeast corner, already developed residentially, not included in the purchase.

Watkins said planning for a new two-unit elementary school with 12 classrooms, auditorium, administrative offices, and other facilities would begin early next year.

The school, estimated to cost $375,000, would be planned for completion by the 1960-61 school year, Watkins said.

The school site is adjacent to Park Manor East and another large subdivision indicated for future development.

Robert Venner, chairman of the Board's real estate subcommittee, pointed out that the tract was purchased with paving assessments and utilities paid. The entire tract was purchased because of the comparatively higher price asked for a smaller portion, he said.

School Area

The proposed school would handle pupils for the area east of 60th from A to Van Dorn, according to Watkins.

Overcrowding of Eastridge school, to which 121 pupils are being transported by bus, will probably be alleviated next year by transporting some students in the higher grades to Millard Lefler school, he explained.

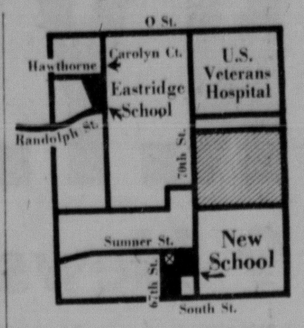

The school board also owns a 137 acres south of the Veterans Administration hospital, proposed as the site for the city's 4th high school. A portion has been discussed for future park development.

At one time plans called for an elementary school also on the site, but Watkins said school plans were changed because "the immediate area did not develop as anticipated."

Half-Mile Maximum

He said the 70th and A location would mean "practically every student would be within a half-mile of an elementary school.

School officials say it is unlikely the 4th high school will be built before 1965.

New School Site

Shown is the 16-acre tract purchased by the Board of Education for a new elementary school site. The school would be located at the northwest corner (marked x). The southeast corner (shown in white) was not included in the purchase. Also shown is a 137-acre tract owned by the school board south of the Veterans Hospital.

Boys Choir Joins Symphony Concert

By Ruth Ardis

Patrons of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Association had the privilege of hearing the Lincoln Boys Choir Tuesday night as part of the regularly scheduled program at the Stuart Theater. Although this group under the direction of Hugh Rangeler has achieved recognition nationally in its concert tours during the last six years, it was making one of its rare Lincoln appearances.

Mr. Rangeler had chosen Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze," "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs" (from "The Messiah") by Handel and a Mexican folk carol "Our Lowly King," arranged by Christiansen. As an encore the choir sang "Ave Verum" by Mozart.

The group consists of a talented group of junior and senior high students chosen because of their fine voices and general musicianship. The applause following their selections indicated that Lincoln is indeed proud to have such a fine group of young musicians.

Conductor Leo Kopp led the Lincoln Symphony in a sensitive interpretation of Vaughan Williams' "London Symphony." The sonority and depth of the string section was especially well demonstrated during the work, which is perhaps one of the most pleasant and interesting symphonies of this century. The performances was excellent—the orchestra surpassed itself.

Another favorite twentieth century composition played was Respighi's "Fountains of Rome." Again Conductor Kopp and the orchestra excelled in this aesthetic and imaginative work.

The orchestra opened the concert with the gay, tuneful "Secret of Susanne" by Wolf-Ferrari, and concluded most appropriately with Leroy Anderson's "A Christmas Festival." The enitre concert was on a high level of performance.

SINGLE-CAR CRASH KILLS 9TH GRADER

Lincoln Star Special

Polk, Neb.—Robert Janky, 14, a 9th grade student at Polk High School was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon when the car he was driving plunged off the road and into a deep ravine.

The one-car accident occurred on a county road about half a mile east and a mile south of Polk near the Polk Bible Camp.

Janky, officials said, was evidently on his way to his farm home from school when the accident occurred. He was thrown from the car and evidently died instantly.

The youth was a member of the high school basketball squad scheduled to play a game with Benedict Tuesday night.

Surviving the youth are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Janky and a married sister, Mrs. Larry Cramer of Littleton, Colo.

SALVATION ARMY TRUCK, DRIVER AWOL

Lincoln-area lawmen are searching for two "deserters" from the Lincoln Salvation Army who apparently have made off with a 1959 model 3-ton truck belonging to the charitable organization.

California Brush Blaze Breaks Fire Lines

80 Cabins Threatened

San Juan Capistrano, Calif. (AP)—Under a sky-blackening smoke cloud, California's worst brush fire of the year broke fire lines at two points Tuesday and threatened 80 summer cabins.

The cabins are in a canyon 12 miles northeast of this mission village.

"Whether we can save the cabins remains to be seen," said a forestry official.

The area, in Long Canyon, is steep and rugged.

Also endangered was a nudist camp. The 4 persons living there prepared to evacuate.

Since Sunday the wind-whipped blaze has blackened 50,00 acres of valuable watershed and grazing land in picturesque rolling foothills.

Determined

A task force of 2,000 firefighters—many with only a few hours sleep in 3 days—waged determined but hazardous warfare from land and air.

"Those winds are tricky and can blow the flames back on you in a wink," said a sooty-faced firefighter over a cup of coffee at a rest station.

Nine World War II Navy PBY and TBM bombers braved a dense smoke cloud and dropped a borate solution on the flames eating steadily through rugged terrain on 3 fronts.

The breakthroughs came in high country where bulldozers and water pumpers cannot operate. One, 18, miles northeast of the mission, leaped a fire line on the Ortega highway and went crackling up the steep, brush-covered slopes of the Santa Ana Mountains.

Near Pendleton

The other, 12 miles east of here, jumped a fire break at San Mateo Canyon and was burning within one mile of the northern boundary of the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base.

A State Fire Service arson specialist blamed the blaze on an unidentified hunter firing tracer bullets in the tinder-dry brushland. Fanned by wind gusts up to 40 m.p.h., the flames spread quickly.

A state forestry official said the fire is expected to destroy at least 60,000 acres before control can be accomplished, probably not until Thursday.

Earlier the flames, that crept to within 5 miles of this historic mission shrine, destroyed 18 homes and weekend cabins and smaller buildings.

Sheree To Wed

Los Angeles (AP)— Actress Sheree North and Gerhardt Ralph Sommer, a psychologist, took out a marriage license.

The couple told reporters they plan to marry at a Beverly Hills hotel.

Two Thefts Total $611

The theft of more than $203 in cash and $408 in merchandise in burglaries at two Lincoln businesses is being investigated by police.

The Service Mart at 1025 No. 35th was broken into through a rear door, police said, and $40 in cash stolen. Also taken were two 17-inch portable television sets and a transistor radio, which were valued at $359.

The Aguilar Plumbing Co. at 1911 R was entered through an unlocked rear door and $163.27 in cash was taken from a safe. The safe, police said, was either left unlocked or was opened without force. Also stolen was a case of whisky valued at $49.95.

Starkweather Execution Originally Set For Today

Wednesday is the day originally set as the execution date for mass killer Charles Starkweather, but his pending appeal before the State Supreme Court has postponed his electrocution indefinitely.

Starkweather, 20, was convicted by a Lancaster District Court jury last May of murdering Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, last Jan. 27. Jensen's death was one of 11 in which Starkweather has admitted involvement.

The jury fired the death penalty, and Judge Harry A. Spencer set Dec. 17 as the execution date.

Appeal Automatic

But state law provides an automatic appeal to the State Supreme Court on all death-penalty cases, and thus the execution was postponed until the high court finishes its review of the case.

If Starkweather's conviction is upheld, the high court will then fix a new execution date. The court's decision is expected within the next few weeks.

Whether the case would be appealed to the federal courts if the State Supreme Court upholds the conviction is not known. But Starkweather's father, Guy, of 3025 N, has said he is opposed to any further appeal.

Got Life

Starkweather's former girl friend and companion on the January killing spree, 15-year-old Caril Ann Fugate, was convicted last month as Starkweather's accomplice in the Jensen murder. But the jury set her penalty at life imprisonment.

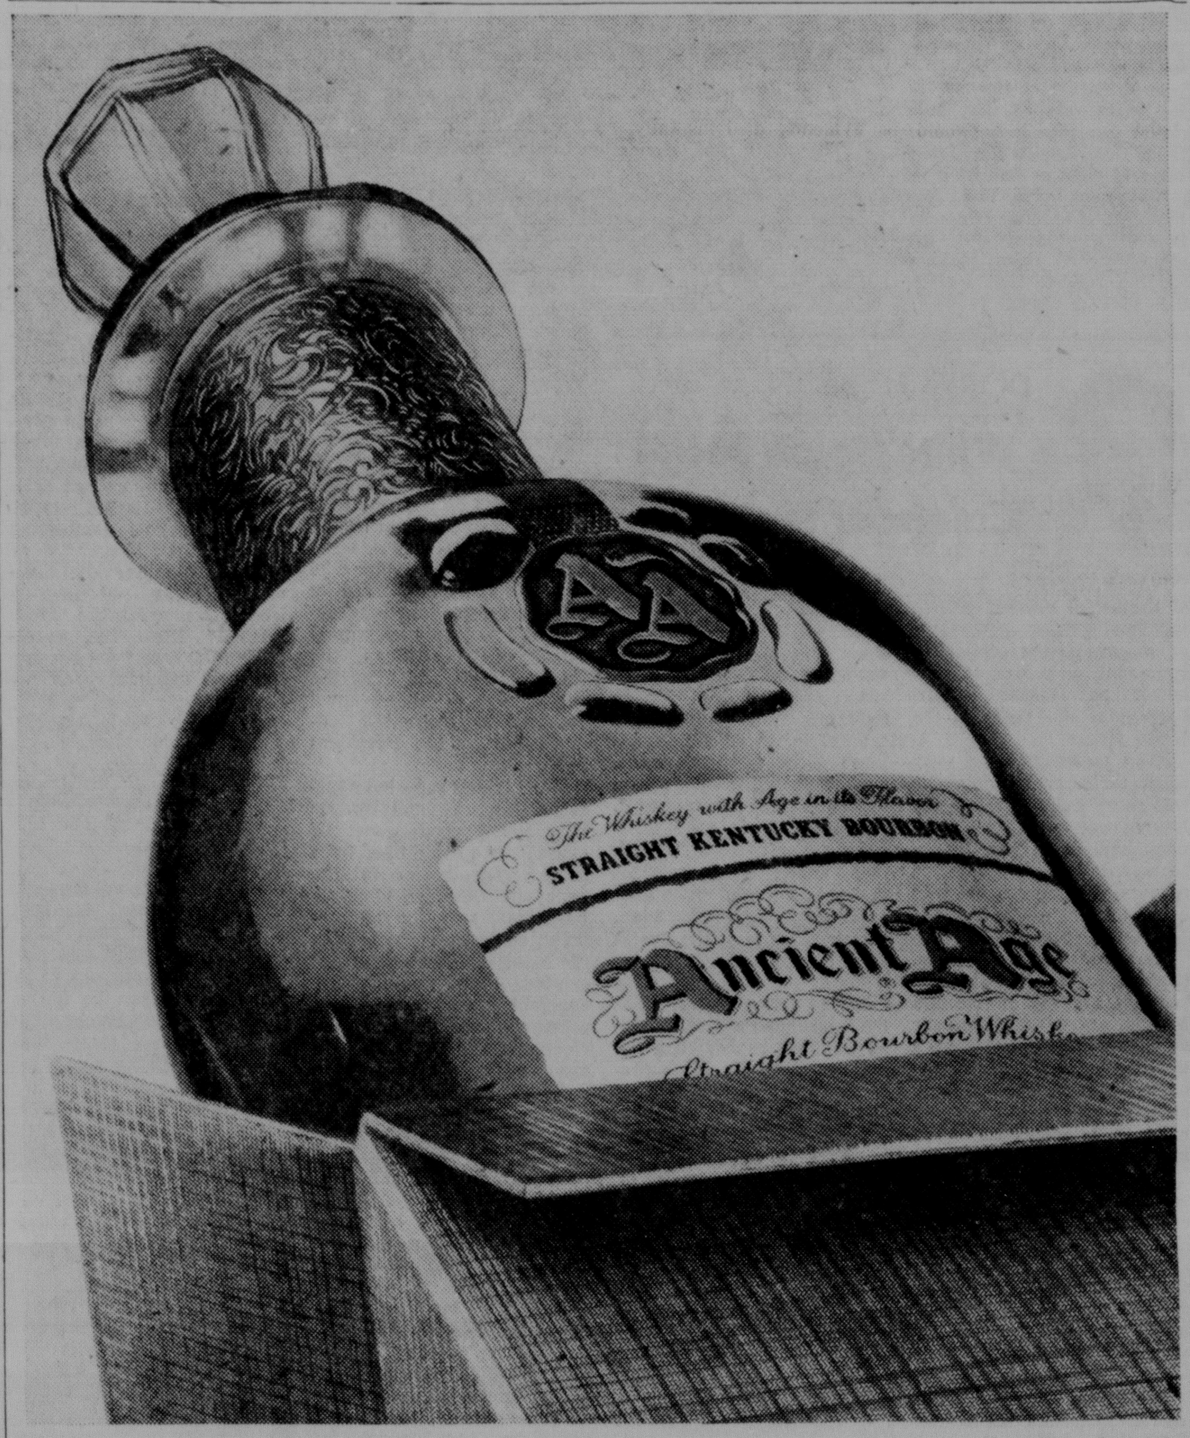

Judge Spencer is now studying a request by her attorney for a new trial. He said Tuesday he does not know when he will rule on the motion.

Caril's re-trial motion is based in part on evidence that one of the jurors, before being chosen to hear the case, made a $1 bet on the trial outcome. The juror bet she would receive the death penalty.

University Salary Increases

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

How can the average citizen be expected to come to any conclusions relative to the value and need of the $32,929,937 budget submitted by the University of Nebraska for continuing its present operations through the 1959-61 biennium? In the final analysis, it is a matter of faith and judgment but certain essentials must be known before these two principles can be applied.

An understanding of the budget is essential for several reasons. For one thing, it represents a substantial tax upon the people of the state. For another, it determines the kind of education we are going to offer the young people of this state in the years ahead. In short, it is a large and vital part of our very way of life. At this time, it might be well to look at only one part of the budget, that dealing with salaries. This is important for two reasons. One, it is the human element of the budget wherein the lives and welfare of thousands of people employed by the university are at stake.

Big Part Of State Life

Secondly, it is by far the largest part of the budget. Out of the total continuing budget figure, $26,589,036 is to go for salaries and wages with $6,342,901 going for costs of equipment, maintenance, supplies, etc. Of the tax funds increase in the newly proposed budget, an estimated $3,875,000 will be for salaries.

This leaves the salary figure for the 1957-59 biennium somewhere in the neighborhood of $22,712,036. The new salary schedule is thus approximately 17.06 per cent higher than last year's figure. These figures must be reported as approximate as a change in accounting procedures has made it impossible to make exact comparisons.

Thus, the amount of the increase as well as the total figure is a sobering thing in itself. But one begins to understand this figure a little better when one looks at its coverage. The figure includes salaries for 1,940 regular employes, exclusive of a roughly estimated 350 graduate assistants costing some $1 million a biennium.

In addition, the figure includes $2.8 million a biennium for temporary and part-time non-academic help such as custodial, student help, farm laborers and nurses. It includes $600,000 each biennium for salaries to teachers during the summer sessions and some $400,000 a biennium to retirement benefits.

Among regular employes, we find 641 people at the full-time instructional level in undergraduate and professional college work. We find another 478 in other academic and administrative levels but not in the student instructional level. This includes 260 staff members of the agricultural extension division staff, the deans of the colleges, business and academic administrators, librarians, residents and interns at the Medical School in Omaha, 20 staff members at the school at Curtis, etc.

There are 174 part-time employes in the academic and administrative classification, mostly in the Teachers College and the Medical School, drawing a total salary of $1 million every two years, each biennium.

Outside of the academic and administrative class are 601 full-time and 46 part-time classified employes, working primarily on an hourly basis. This includes clerical help, laboratory and technical personnel, buildings and grounds help, etc.

It is important to understand this network of employment for two reasons. It helps explain the magnitude of the total salary figure in the budget and it explains another figure. The other figure is the 23.5 to 29.3 per cent average increase in salary proposed in the new budget at the academic level in the undergraduate and professional college instructional ranks.

With an over-all salary increase of perhaps 17.06 per cent, it is obvious that the greater proportion of the money is to be applied where needed — among the teaching faculty. Lesser increases would have to go to administrators, other non-instructing academic members and non-academic personnel. This is a vital point as it strikes at the heart of any university program and is the place where Nebraska is currently falling 23 to 30 per cent behind regional averages. It is the place where we stand to lose the intellect which imparts learning to our students and the knowledge which draws the finer young minds to our doors for nourishment and cultivation. It is the wisdom and thus the foundation of the university.

Emphasis On The Vital

There are no across-the-board raises at the university. There is a rather wide maximum and minimum within ranks but an individual's financial status is determined by tenure, responsibility and ability. These factors are determined through consultations between deans and department heads and between deans and the chancellor and his administration. It is not a system without the possibility of error, either intentional or unintentional, but it is the only system in which we can recognize and reward elements of individual superiority.

This does not mean that errors have not been made or that there is adequate machinery to rectify them but that is an extended area of discussion in itself. Nor does any of this mean that the salary end of the budget is not open to more detailed mechanical questions or questions of principle. But it does straighten and focus our vision and we like what we can see.

Could Do Without Adjectives

That much belabored, undefined word "economy" will take another pummeling when the Eisenhower administration squares off against the Democratic Congress on the question of the budget.

The loudest missile will be the phrase, "reckless spending."

In the name of clear mindedness and prudent judgment the American public ought to get the question down to its essentials before the words begin to fly.

At this juncture the new budget will not miss $80 billions by much. That is the opinion of the administration and it is also the estimate of the Congress.

Half of the budget, or approximately $40 billion will go for defense. That is also an opinion shared by the administration and the Congress.

If $80 billion represents a reckless figure then both the administration and the Congress are guilty prima facie, and in that event the public will not be served by the pot calling the kettle black.

But the word reckless requires a far better definition before it is so loosely applied. The size of the budget should be dictated by the realistic facts of survival and well being. If $40 billion is only half that which is truly needed for security then appropriating half enough is as reckless as appropriating twice too much.

It is the same with the word economy. If both branches propose to spend approximately an equal amount the issue ceases to be one of economy, but that of a difference of opinion over what the money should be spent for.

It is best, therefore, not to be carried away by adjectives, but to be more demanding that both the administration and the Congress engage in a thoughtful debate on the merits of their positions. Since there is no evidence that the budget will go down nor that taxes will become less onerous the only escape left is that of properly directed spending.

Local Boy Makes Good

Now and then a local boy stays home and makes good.

That is about the story of C. Y. Thompson of West Point.

This venerable and effective Nebraskan was honored by his peers this week, generally in recognition of a lifetime of service to his state and specifically because, after 24 years as a regent of the University of Nebraska, he is stepping aside.

Earlier Mr. Thompson said the time had come for him to let younger men with fresher ideas and more progressive thoughts take over the controls of the regency. That was probably the only untruth he ever uttered. The fact is that no one has ever been more forward looking, nor more responsive and tolerant to change and progress than Mr. Thompson. When he tries to make Nebraska believe he is an old fogy, it just won't go down. But this one deviation from fact can be readily forgiven.

The real facts are that Mr. Thompson just never got Nebraska out of his system. He grew up in the state, was educated at the university, prepared for the law, but loved agriculture more. So he became a farmer. And once he became a farmer he concentrated his abilities, which are considerable, on making farming a more satisfying and more progressive way of life. In his long and eventful life he has lived to see the greater share of his conceptions and aspirations come true.

He felt the same way about higher education and has had the gratifying experience of seeing his university grow from its minor beginnings into one of the great and advancéd institutions of its time.

All in all, C. Y. Thompson has had an unusually full and rewarding life and now in his riper years he can be sustained by the knowledge that he has succeeded far more than had he gone far away and foreclosed on half of the world.

True Candor

The modern age has too much smooth talk and double meaning.

It would be refreshing if public figures returned to the candor of Benjamin Franklin, who never left one in doubt. For instance, speaking of the American eagle he said:

"I wish the bald eagle had not been chosen as the representative bird of our country. He is a bird of bad moral character like those among men who live by sharping. He is generally poor and often lousy.

"The turkey is a much more respectable bird, and withal a true original native of America."

Ike's Statements Are Challenged

WASHINGTON — Before President Eisenhower goes into a press conference, Jim Hagerty, his astute public relations adviser, spends 30 minutes to an hour briefing him on likely questions to be asked and how to answer them. On the whole, Ike has been most effective at press conferences. But last week the redoubtable Jim either wasn't on the ball, or his boss ignored his coaching. Result: Ike made no fewer than four amazing statements which could not be documented by fact. They were:

Statement No. 1 — That plans for dividing up Berlin were made at the Potsdam conference. From this, Eisenhower drew the inference that the present isolation of Berlin was not his responsibility as former allied commander-in-chief.

Fact — The isolation of Berlin was agreed to in June 1945, about one month prior to the Potsdam conference. Truman attended the Potsdam conference, but Eisenhower, as supreme allied commander in Germany was in charge of the earlier Berlin conference. He delegated the job to his No. 1 man, Gen. Lucius Clay, now head of Continental Can.

Statement No. 2—The President stated there was no known usefulness for an atom-powered plane. He discounted reports that Russia had such a plane.

Fact — The Air Force has long had a specific and definite use for an atom-powered plane, namely, to keep it constantly flying as a patrol missile carrier ready to attack any enemy that first attacks the United States. The value of an atom-powered plane is exactly that of an atom-powered sumarine.

Plans for this plane were placed on the President's desk last March, but he vetoed the money for a crash program to build it.

Statement No. 3 — The President denied that he had ever permitted anyone to revile Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, in his presence. This was technically true, but he ignored some rather important facts.

Fact — Speaking in Indianapolis Sept. 9, 1952, Eisenhower appeared on the same platform with Sen. William Jenner of Indiana. Jenner held Eisenhower's hand aloft as a referee holds up the hand of a prize-fight winner. He endorsed the entire Indiana ticket, using the carefully chosen words "from top to bottom."

Jenner had made a full-dress speech on the Senate floor Sept. 15, 1950, calling Marshall a "front man for traitors" and a "living lie." Because of congressional immunity, Marshall could not sue him for libel.

White House Social Calendar Slim One

WASHINGTON — By way of the social season, Washington is getting a foretaste of the relaxed attitude the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are taking toward their final two years in the White House.

Even more than last year when their party calendar was sharply abbreviated, the Eisenhower social obligations have been pared to a bare minimum. Only five dinners are being held, with extra guests invited for the musicales which follow.

No receptions as such are scheduled. Traditionally, receptions are the President's bow toward a great number of people who carry on the day-to-day business of the government and have little other opportunity to see and meet their chief executive and the first lady.

The Supreme Court dinner, the first under the new dispensation, took place last Thursday. A White House invitation is a command, and all the justices able to be on their feet presented themselves with their wives well before the appointed hour of 8 o'clock. The usual coterie of uniformed aides from the Army, Navy and Air Force lined them up in the east room to be received in the correct order of precedence. Lesser dignitaries and the many personal friends of the Eisenhowers who were invited brought up the rear.

Eight o'clock came and went, and the hovering aides who were keeping the line in strict order became visibly nervous. It also became apparent that some of the distinguished justices were not enjoying a prolonged period of standing at attention. Their attempts to visit with one another were strictly discouraged by the conscientious aides.

It was nearly 8:30 when the President and Mrs. Eisenhower appeared.

A similar indifference to the time was displayed in the serving of dinner; it was after 10:30 before the Eisenhowers gave the signal to leave the dining room. The musicale, to which additional guests were invited, then lasted until midnight and was followed by a general reception. By that time, however, some of the guests were quietly slipping away.

It was noticeable also that the Eisenhowers had included on their restricted guest list an unusually large proportion of their personal friends and wealthy people who had entertained them at their vacation resorts.

Press coverage of the distaff side of the White House, never very inclusive in the Eisenhower regime, has shared in the general restriction of its activities. Neither Mrs. Eisenhower nor her staff hold press conferences; the press associations and local newspapers are allowed to cover social events. But the many special reporters here must be represented by only one of their number, who is drawn by lot.

Any lessening of a President's contact with the people in his government will inevitably be reflected in their performance. It is difficult at best to give them a sense of participation when the federal government has become so large and its activities so impersonal. Any social recognition is, of course, vastly important, too, to the wives of career men and civil servants.

BOB CONSIDINE

Newsless Gotham Is Forlorn

NEW YORK — You know who misses the New York newspapers most in the current deliverers strike? The New York newspapermen.

Considine

Going without a newspaper is worse than trying to stop smoking or drinking. A fellow doesn't know what to do with his hands. Or his head. You have the feeling of being alone in a crowd and without knowledge of some great news that everybody else knows about and won't tell. You have a feeling, too, that the world might be going to pot and nobody knows it.

The radio and TV stations around New York have done what they could to fill the void. NBC had two hours of New York Timesmen sounding forth last Sunday. WNEW, the powerful independent, has a number of the New York columnists reading their pieces over the air. All the stations have increased the number of newscasts.

But this burst of effort, commendable as it is, points up a timeless truth. There's no substitute for a newspaper. The pear-shaped tone, the flitting image on a screen, can never replace or even fill in temporarily for the printed word. The hour-by-hour record of these momentous days can be kept only by the daily papers. The most comprehensive sort of news shown on the air can be little else than sketchy. It is a transient look at something which can be confirmed properly only by study of the story in the press.

A comparative handful of deliveries has silenced the biggest, most articulate and influential press in the land, the New York newspapers. The manner by which it has been done has been deplored on both sides, union and management, and in the middle, the government arbitrator. But it has been done. The papers have lost December revenue which will mean, for some, the difference between a winning and a losing year. The merchants of the town have lost some incalculable sum because they could not promote sales through their advertisements.

The familiar news vendors' kiosks around the city are bleak places these days, without their stacks of newspapers. The protruding shelf that knew the weight of exciting new editions breathing with the pulse of a changing world now sag under cheap magazines — one of them containing a feature on how well Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds are getting along together in Hollywood.

The weekly newsmagazines are a bit of a help, but not the answer. The news is stale and stilted. In Time the anonymous young men continue to strive more for a flippancy than a fact, more for a pun than a pungent thought. Wafer-thin, razor-sharp, pipe-puffing Time is not one to replace hen-shaped, blunt-tongued, posture-blasting Westbrook Pegler, seems it to me.

So we grieve for our daily papers, especially we who help to produce them. The syndicate writers keep hacking away (ed. note: to wit) but it takes sometimes several days and more often a week to find out whether any editor, any reader, cared.

We hardly know what to do with our time these days, since so much of it was given over to reading and studying all the New York papers, not just the N.Y. Journal American and N.Y. Mirror. Some of us have gotten out that old unfinished novel and looked it over again.

Let that be a warning to the literature lovers among the balky deliverers! If that doesn't bring them to their knees, nothing will.

Post Mortem

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The 1958 "Battle of the Ballots" is now history and the vanquished are busy licking their wounds and conducting a post mortem. We think the autopsy will reveal several reasons to account for the way the elections went, the main reason being a revitalized Democratic party which really worked on this one with a superior set of candidates. Another factor was the so-called independent voter who was not at all impressed by the specter of "creeping socialism" so loudly acclaimed by the GOP strategy, the smear tactics and even the name-calling ("hare-brained Democratic notions") indulged in by the President himself.

Mr. Bixler's reported opposition to a recount on his vote shows good sense. Of course there could have been some irregularities in the count, but these would be unintentional and the idea of fraud could be ruled out, as the local election boards are selected from among respectable citizens of their precincts, and besides, the election boards are bipartisan and would be on the lookout for infractions of the law.

Assuming, then, that this is true, how can the GOP think that any irregularities found in the recount could in every instance be in favor of the opposition and against them? It just doesn't make sense.

The GOP top brass has never yet disclosed the original source of the $20,000 "kitty" which was posted as a guarantee for the expense of the recount, and until they do, one cannot be blamed for thinking maybe the many state employes contributed to the fund in the forlorn hope of retaining their jobs.

A Prediction

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The determination displayed by the Republican party to recount the ballots from a recent election is most likely to lose for them far more than they shall gain. Many of their own party faithful are recoiling from the hi-frequency propaganda that the vote-counting has suddenly been rigged to favor the Democats.

This ridiculous cacophony about the methods used to count the election ballots is fooling no one, and the Republicans shall no doubt pay for it, come 1960.

From where I stand, it looks as if the Republicans and their $20,000 worth of mystery support would turn the recount into a real fiasco if they could just get their hot little hands on those ballots. They would prove they weren't poor losers, because they wouldn't lose.

Herewith a prediction—the recount, if conducted honestly, will give Brooks a clearcut victory and Vic a qualified horse laugh.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It looks to me as if the C. O. Blanchards and the Winnifred Lewises are carrying on a political campaign via the "free publicity" columns of our newspapers. They certainly seem to be taking advantage of the privilege. Blanchard must have some political ambitions himself as intensely as he's beating the drums for his "ward" proposal. Who's dominating whom?

What's stopping Mr. Blanchard or Winnifred Lewis from running for the City Council? Have the people south of O Street got a copyright on candidacy for the Council?

Our Protection

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What causes juvenile delinquents? Does it start with adult delinquents, including parents? How does a child learn to talk? Just by hearing others. And how does he learn to act? By watching others. We try to make laws to protect children. We admit things are bad, but when we reach the age of accountability, we are allowed to make our choice.

A child follows his parents' habits. As he grows, his playmates are also an influence. Crimes and all stories of violence are pictured on the front pages. Sometimes our advertising has a bad effect on youngsters. Why do we profess to have laws protecting our children, then allow other influences to mislead them?

General Welfare

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Sen. Lausche, Democrat, of Ohio, says that he "is appalled by the fact that United States bonds are selling at a discount for the first time in modern history." He should know that our colossal federal debt of $285 billion with its $8 billion annual interest bill which the American taxpayers must pay for the use of the privately owned Federal Reserve Bank credit (check book money) under this monetary system has now brought us to a climax of national bankruptcy.

Our present economic catastrophe of five million unemployed, with the resultant reduced purchasing power, started in 1913 when Congress abrogated its sovereign authority, evaded its constitutional duty, and delegated to the Federal Reserve Bank system its constitutional right to issue currency and regulate the value thereof, thus permitting the system of deficit spending by the use of bank credit instead of currency. This is directly responsible for our present enormous federal debt and economic chaos.

In 1862, Constitution-wise President Lincoln asked Congress to exercise its constitutional, sovereign right and issue United States notes (money), good for all debts, public and private (free from interest) and Congress did issue $257 million of this currency which is still in circulation after 96 years, at par value, and this act saved the nation from bankruptcy and won the Civil War.

Voices in Congress should now demand the issue of constitutional money to be used for public projects, and cut military spending and foreign aid. This will restore prosperity, reduce taxation, stop deficit spending, provide for the general welfare.

Rountree Meets Iraq Premier; No More Violence Is Reported

Baghdad (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State William Rountree met with Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem for more than an hour in the Premier's Defense Ministry Headquarters. There was not a sign of public violence such as the Washington envoy met Monday on his arrival in Iraq but anti-American press attacks continued.

Foreign Minister Abdul Kabbar Jomard sat in on part of the talks. Also on hand was A. David Fritzlan, the American charge d'affaires.

In contrast with Monday's emotional anti-Rountree demonstration, he and Fritzlan drove almost unnoticed through city crowds in an embassy station wagon without a flag flying. An Embassy limousine bringing Rountree in from the Airport Monday was pelted with mudballs, eggs and a stone or so and mobs shouted, "go home, Rountree."

Rountree entered the Defense Ministry grounds from colorfully bustling Rashid Street just before noon and remained with Kassem until shortly after 1 p.m. when he motored back to the Embassy for lunch.

No Comment

The government and Embassy declined to comment on the talks and refused even to describe their atmosphere.

His schedule is being kept open for Wednesday, when he may meet with Finance Minister Mohammed Hadid.

He tentatively is slated to lunch with other western diplomatic chiefs of mission.

Baghdad newspapers continued editorial tirades against Rountree and the U.S. government.

Al-Ahali, which sometimes reflects the government's views, editorialized on "the American imperialist record in Arab countries."

It said Rountree is touring the Middle East to review the effects of American policies beginning with the Eisenhower doctrine and culminating in last summer's Lebanese uprising and the Iraqi revolution.

Reds Blamed

Washington (AP) — The State Department Tuesday blamed Communist subversive elements for hurling mud balls, eggs and stones at visiting Assistant Secretary of State William Rountree in Iraq.

A department spokesman absolved Premier Abdel Karem Kassem's regime of any responsibility for the demonstrations, even though his government is backed by the Reds.

12 Wings Near

Fassberg, Germany (AP)—Lt. Gen. Josef Kammhuber, chief of the West German Luftwaffe, announced that his fledgling Air Force will have 12 combat-ready wings by the end of 1959.

They will be 5 fighter-bomber wings, 3 fighter, two reconnaissance and two transport wings. Within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization West Germany is allowed an Air Force of 1,200 combat aircraft.

Park Evergreens Not For Taking

Antelope Park does not have evergreens for the taking, according to Park Supt. Jim Ager.

In addition to numerous inquiries, Ager said some people have mistakenly assumed evergreen branches may be removed from the park.

Ager has requested that Lincolnites "leave the trimming of park evergreens to our regular crews."

Jealous Spouse Stalks, Slays Exchange Student

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—A love triangle involving a German exchange student and the couple that took him in, ended in violent death at the University of California early Tuesday.

Assignment Judge

Judge Paul White has been appointed Lancaster District Court assignment judge for the coming year and will hear criminal cases. Judges Harry Spencer and John Polk will hear the law cases and Judge Ankeny will hear equity cases and preside over the Juvenile Court.

For two hours a jealous husband stalked his intended prey in Leconte Hall, making a room by room search of the college physics building.

On the 3rd floor, Wolfgang Ludwig Marx, 26, of Herrnhut, Germany, a brilliant young student, was working alone on an electronics project.

Marx must have heard footsteps at 12:50 a.m. He opened the laboratory door and was confronted by a man with a pistol.

Five Shots

The gun fired 5 times. Marx fell dead, a bullet through his heart.

The killer dropped his .22 caliber weapon as he fled, but returned later for it and was taken into custody.

John W. Hampton, 31, readily admitted the killing, Police Sgt. Robert Ludden said, and, booked on suspicion of murder, related this story:

Two years ago Hampton's wife, Madeleine, an attractive blonde, suggested they take a German exchange student into their home.

Marx, the son of Karl Marx of Essen, Germany, became a boarder at the Hamptons' home and a student at the University in 1955.

English Difficulty

Marx had difficulty with the English language. But Mrs. Hampton, former Madeleine Baum of Weisbaden, Germany, spoke fluent German.

Hampton said the relationship developed into a love affair. He ordered Marx out of his home. Marx then served in the U.S. Army.

Upon his return last September the relationship was resumed, Hampton said.

Hampton told police his wife admitted the affair and asked for a divorce. She is the mother of 3 young boys.

"I loved her and I couldn't stand it," Hampton said. "This thing was driving me crazy."

Patrol Moves Car Testing To Bruning

Seven troopers of the State Safety Patrol will begin testing 7 models of cars at the Bruning Airport Thursday to determine which will best suit the needs of the Patrol, Col. C. J. Sanders, patrol chief, said.

Originally scheduled to be tested at the old Harvard Air Force Base, Sanders said the transfer was made to Bruning because it is closer to Lincoln and the air strip would be available for greater periods of time.

State Purchasing Agent Tom Coffey is turning over to Sanders the cars for testing provided by bidders earlier this week.

The low bids include: Chevrolet, $2,104; Ford, $2,018; Plymouth, $1,959; Dodge, $2,207; Buick, $2,223; Edsel, $2,290 and Mercury, $2,344. Coffey said the Plymouth bid did not include overdrive which would cost about $75 more.

Sanders said each model of car would be driven by each of the 7 troopers, who will also give the automobiles road tests next week.

SLEEK SNARK TEST-FLOWN FROM CAPE

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A veteran Air Force launching team shot a sleek Snark intercontinental guided missile over the ocean on a training flight.

Crewmen from the 556th Guided Missile Squadron of the Strategic Air Command were at the controls when the 69-foot Snark roared off its ground launcher with a flash of orange flame.

The flight plan called for the Northrop weapon to travel about half its full distance — some 3,000 miles — then turn around and return toward the cape.

The results of the test were not announced.

Mrs. Crancer Rites Thursday

Funeral services for former Lincolnite Mrs. Elinor Gustin Crancer, 60, will be held 2 p.m. Thursday at Wadlows. Burial will be in Wyuka Cemetery.

Mrs. Crancer, who had lived in Denver 8 years, died there Saturday.

She was born in Nebraska and attended the University of Nebraska.

Survivors include her husband, Ray; sister, Mrs. Ross Taggart of Washington, D. C., and a stepson, George E. of Lincoln.

Any Tyrannosaurus Will Be Fine, Santa

By Virgil Falloon

"Santa, I want a Tyrannosaurus for Christmas."

This was just one of the some 75 letters to the Old Gentleman from the North Pole that the Lincoln Post Office had been holding for his arrival Tuesday.

"Walt," chuckled Santa to Asst. Postmaster W. F. Salisbury, "if you don't know already—that's prehistoric stuff and the largest of the carnivorus dinosaurs."

Another youngster, with a scientific bent and just learning to write, wants a "Mic-Roscope."

Santa continued to glance rapidly through his mail:

"Dear Santa: How are you? How is Mrs. Santa Claus? You are coming down the chimney aren't you? Little elfs make toys, don't they?"

Other letters from boys and girls similarly reaffirmed that youthful faith and confidence in the big-hearted fellow.

Three other youngsters requested in one letter: one puppy, one chicken and one duck.

Toys requested included football suits, gun and holster sets, games, bicycles, and roller skates for the boys and dolls, doll houses, dishes, stoves and high-heeled play shoes for the girls.

Children too young to write drew pictures of toys they wanted or included catalcg pictures in their letters.

Some included drawings of Santa and other brightly-colored pictures.

Most common of all assurances to Santa were: "I have been a good boy" or "I have been a good girl."

Other lists also included things for little sister or little brother too young to write their own letters. In other letters, mother obviously helped Johnny or Susie write Santa.

"Well," said Santa, putting his mail into his pocket, "I have a lot to do before Christmas Eve."

"And, so do Uncle Sam's postal workers," he added in waving goodbye.

Rail Rate Hike Request Taken Under Study

The State Railway Commission took under advisement Tuesday an application from all Nebraska railroads for a boost in their minimum shipment rates.

Although all railroads operating in the state petitioned for the rate hike from $1.86 to $3, only the Burlington and Union Pacific railroads appeared at the hearing.

Protestants to the proposed increase included Harry Sundblad, representing the Omaha Chamber of Commerce; and William Reist, Beatrice, representing Dempsters Mill Manufacturing Co. of Beatrice, and the Nebraska Shippers and Receivers Assn.

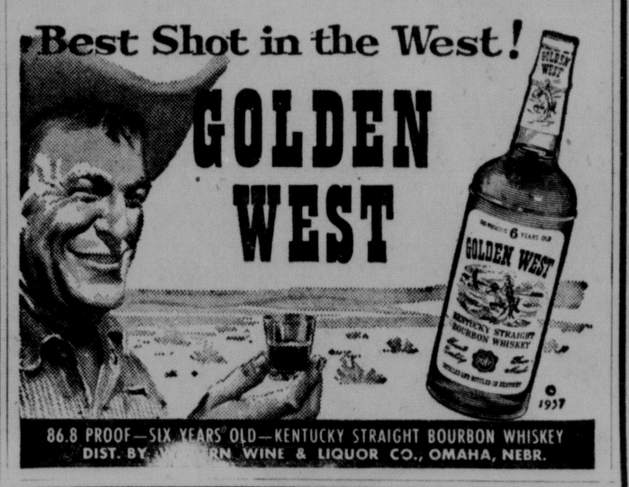

Attorneys for the applicants included J. E. Steffaurd, Chicago, and J. W. Weingarten, Omaha, both representing the Burlington Railroad; and George Holdrege, Omaha, representing the Union Pacific.

THE CULPRIT

One Red Rose for Christmas

(This is the fifth of ten chapters condensed from the book, "One Red Rose for Christmas," by Paul Horgan, published by Longmans, Green and Company, New York.)

By Paul Horgan

Her peace was about to descend upon her when there was a scratch at the door. Just before opening her yes Mother Seraphim clenched her folded hands for a second and then said.

"Come in, Kathie."

Opening the door as little as possible, Kathie came flatwise into the office and curtsied. The smile that was meant to be ingratiating was upon her face, and her hands straight down by her sides trembled hard. The sight offended Mother Seraphim.

"Stop shaking and sit down, Kathie."

The shaking increased. Mother Seraphim was hardly able to bear the presence of this child. Her heart suffered a little prickling spray of dislike and annoyance at Kathie's image—that wilted vegetable look, that classic "orphaned" timidity, the ungraceful poses of those poor bones in their blue blouse and short skirt and thick black stockings, that open mouth with its hot color at the lips, those poor trials at seeing first out of one eye and then the other. Beyond all that was the stonelike secret doubt about Kathie's guilt a year ago. Had she set the fire that resulted in the death of Mother Seraphim's sister? Mother Seraphim made a radiant smile come onto her face as she leaned forward to Kathie who sat on the least possible edge of a black leather armchair.

"Kathie, is this yours?" She exhibited the purple velvet box.

"Yes."

"Good. Where did you get it?"

"I found it."

"You found it. Where, my dear?"

"On the streetcar."

"The streetcar? When?"

"Yesterday."

"Where did you go yesterday, Kathie?"

"I went shopping with Sister Augustine and Sister Martha Mary."

"Good. Did you enjoy it?"

The girl's eyes suddenly filled with tears that overflowed and rolled down her face.

"Now, Kathie, why do you cry?"

"I don't know. It was so pretty."

"What was?"

"The downtown. I mean the lights and the happiness. I saw it.

"Did you see happiness?"

"Oh, yes. Everywhere. I wanted them to be so happy."

"Good, Kathie. That is sweet. Now, this box. Was there anything in it when you found it?"

"Oh, yes."

Mother Seraphim's heart sank.

"What was it?"

"A little tag."

"A tag?"

"Yes, you know, a price tag. So." She leaned forward and showed how a little cardboard tag had sat upright in the velvet biscuit.

"Was that all?"

"Yes."

"So you brought the box home with you?"

"Yes."

"Why did you hang it out the window on a string?"

"It was so pretty."

"Yes, but—"

"I thought someone would take it away from me."

"Oh, my poor Kathie, just because it is pretty, you feared we would deprive you? No, my child, if we took it, it was for another reason."

"Oh."

There was a knock. Sister Augustine entered. She was an old woman, large, jolly, and keen.

"Yes, Reverend Mother? You sent for me."

"Yes, Sister." She held up the box.

"Kathie had this, Sister. Do you know where it came from?"

Sister Augustine threw up her hands and laughed. She had a shadow of German accent in her speech.

"Ach, the box again. Yes, of course. We went all of us yesterday to Krischbaum's for some more tree trimmings, and we went past the jewelry counter. Kathie was right with me. There was a crowd. Someone knocked this box off the counter and Kathie picked it up. She began to cry when I said put it back. She opened and closed it. The girl at the counter said why bother, neffer mind, let it go, she can have it, she said, they bought a ring, and left the box behind, let her have it."

Mother Seraphim looked at Kathie. The girl was shrinking deep into her chair and twisting her face into a pleading, terrified smile.

"Kathie, why did you lie to me?"

"I don't know."

The superior was cold with fury. She made herself calm. She felt the stabbing of what could only have been hatred for Kathie in her breast. It shamed her and frightened her. Oh, why did this wretched child intrude so into her very quality?

"Thank you, Sister, that will be all."

Sister Augustine nodded and left. Then Mother Seraphim said,

"Kathie, I do not know how or when to believe you. I must punish you for telling me untruths. Don't you know how important it is to tell the truth?"

"But I know not till afterward whether it is the truth or not."

Though she refused to show it, Mother Seraphim was aghast at this statement. She stood up and motioned Kathie to rise.

"Now you may go, Kathie."

The girl went to the door, turned, curtsied, and hesitated.

"Well, Kathie?"

"Will it snow, Reverend Mother?"

"Heavens, child, how should I know?"

"I want it to snow."

"Now why?"

"I don't know. I feel dear when it snows," declared Kathie, and then, with a wrench, was gone.

"I wish I knew—" murmured Mother Seraphim, not entirely certain of what it was that she wished to know.

Lost: British Sub

London (AP) — Lost in the Bay of Biscay Tuesday: One old submarine destined for the scrap heap.

The 500-ton submarine, called the Virulent when she did service in the British Navy, broke loose as she was being towed from Malta to England. No one was aboard.

The British Iron & Steel Corp., LTD., which purchased the old campaigner, said the tug Rifleman was searching the bay for the wayward submarine. But a northerly gale was blowing.

Snow Cover Aids State Crops

The blanket of snow which covers much of the western two-thirds of Nebraska is providing good protection for winter grain crops, agricultural observers reported.

The added moisture also will help relieve dry surface soil conditions and reduce soil blowing, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics noted in its weekly crop report.

The snow cover is light in some central and eastern counties, leaving fall seeded crops unprotected from cold, the report said.

Field work has about reached a standstill in the state. Clean-up corn picking is virtually finished and farmers are mostly involved in caring for livestock, repairing buildings and equipment, and grinding feed and shelling corn.

Low temperatures and the layer of snow over pastures and ranges have stepped up feeding requirements for livestock.

But feed supplies are abundant and stock remains in good to excellent condition.

Many cattle in western counties have been moved from corn and milo fields into feedlots or winter feeding quarters, although in eastern Nebraska large numbers of feeder cattle still are forging in stalk fields.

Winter farrowings are expected to top last year.

Milk and egg production rates have been favorable.

Liquor Men Polled On Price-Fixing

Omaha (AP) — The Nebraska Licensed Beverage Assn. is polling its members on the question of minimum pricing.

John G. Travato, Omaha, association president, said most members appear to favor price-fixing to "prevent some retailers from using liquor as a loss leader for advertising purposes."

The question being put to association members would involve an effort to obtain legislation by the Legislature or a commission rule establishing a code which would set minimum markups — the difference between the wholesale and retail prices.

In a letter accompanying ballots, Travato said the minimum markup plan was viewed by some retailers as an acceptable substitute for Rule 46. He said he believes some members would favor the minimum markup even if the rule remains intact.

Not all liquor retailers were in support of a price-fixing effort and one said, "It would tend to raise liquor prices in the state."

WORKERS OKAY PHONE STRIKE AT KEARNEY

Kearney, Neb. (AP)—Local 7471, Communication Workers of America, has voted a strike against the General Telephone Co. of Nebraska if a new contract cannot be reached.

The old contract expired Dec. 7.

Union officials said no new meeting with the company has been set. The union will hold a meeting later this week to decide on a course of action if there is no further progress in negotiations.

Van Brunt Death Inquest Friday

Omaha (AP) — A 6-man jury was sworn in Tuesday by acting County Coroner George Sullivan to inquire into the death last Sunday of Jacques Daniel Van Brunt, 42.

An inquest will be at 2 p.m. Friday.

Van Brunt was found dead Sunday at the foot of his basement stairs. Detectives said he had visited a neighborhood bar the night before and had told a bar employe he had been beaten up.

STATE OIL NEWS

Dirksen Defies GOP Liberals

...He'll Fight For Senate Floor Leadership

Washington (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said he will fight for and expects to win the post of Senate GOP floor leader.

The Illinois senator, describing himself as a down-the-line supporter of President Eisenhower "for whom I have carried the flag when the legislative going was rough," told reporters:

"I'm definitely a candidate. I think we shall be able to command sufficient voting strength. I hope we shall be able to do so."

Dirksen is the central target in a fight against the Senate Republican leadership launched by a 10-memberg group, headed by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, which views the present leadership as behind the times.

No Compromise

Dirksen spoke out as a new call for compromise and harmony failed to soothe leaders of the party uprising.

The call came from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all GOP senators. A similar line was taken earlier by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, senior Senate Republican and chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

These two conferred during the day with Dirksen, who also carried on the recruiting campaign among fellow senators. Subsequently, in his interview, Dirksen said of the opposition:

Down The Line

"I do not know on what grounds they are opposing me. I've gone down the line for key administration legislation. I have carried the flag for the President and the White House in the Senate, many times when the going was rough, I think I have performed my chores diligently and on the basis of my long service to the public and party I merit consideration."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, one of the insurgents, suggested in an interview that "perhaps a rereading on last November's (election) holocaust may convince some of our Republican friends" that those he described as progressives should have a louder voice.

Stricter School Fire Rules Seen

State Officials Discuss Plans

Tighter fire safety regulations for a majority of Nebraska's public and parochial schools are in prospect following a meeting at the Statehouse Tuesday of Nebraska fire officials.

"We can't let the recent tragedy in Chicago be repeated in Nebraska," State Fire Marshal E. C. Iverson said, as the group began drafting more strict regulations for fire safety.

Meeting with Iverson were Lincoln Fire Chief Paul Feaster; Robert Smith, chief of the Omaha Bureau of Fire Prevention; Emil Wagner of Omaha, assistant manager of the Nebraska Inspection Bureau, and deputy state fire marshals G. E. Ekstrand of Lincoln and Fred Otte of Minatare.

Closed Stairwells

One major revision would include the closing of stairwells unless the cost or present design would be prohibitive. In that event, Iverson said, the safety regulations would permit the stairwells to remain open but it would be mandatory to have an automatic sprinkler system.

Automatic sprinkler systems also would be required for large storage areas, domestic science rooms, workshops and laboratories.

Automatic alarm or sprinkler systems would be required throughout in non-fire resistant buildings.

Fire Drills

Monthly fire drills would be required and it would be mandatory that reports be filed with the Fire Marshal's office each month reporting details on the drills, such as time required to empty buildings.

The use of fire-resistant materials would be required in corridors and assembly rooms.

Iverson said he hopes the regulations can be revised and the necessary public hearing held within 30 to 45 days.

Inspections

In the meantime, the Fire Marshal's office will begin inspection tours of public and parochial schools in every city in the state right after the first of the year.

Iverson said cities such as Lincoln and Omaha, and possibly Grand Island and Hastings, will be able to conduct their own inspections, but that members of his staff will personally visit the others.

This would include the larger schools in rural areas, he said.

Not His Night

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. (AP)—It just wasn't James H. Conaway's night.

First he was involved in a collision with a truck. His car was damaged but he was unhurt so he drove on.

Then his car stalled on a railroad crossing. A freight train came around the bend.

Conaway got out of the car in time to make a futile effort to flag down the train.

His car was demolished.

Liebers Heads Nebraska Hall Of Ag Achievement

State Senator Otto H. Liebers has been elected president of the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement.

Other officers elected were C. Y. Thompson, West Point vice president, and J. W. Epp, University of Nebraska Agriculture College faculty member, secretary-treasurer.

Wayland Magee, Bennington, was chosen trustee for a 4-year term.

4 Months Given For Non-Support

Warren Rader of Lincoln was sentenced to a 4-month County Jail term in Lancaster District Court Tuesday on a non-support charge.

Rader, 31, had pleaded guilty previously to failing to pay his former wife for the support of their minor child for the month of January. But he had been placed on probation.

Rader pleaded guilty to violating the terms of his probation by again failing to support his child and was sentenced on the original charge by Judge Harry A. Spencer. The judge ordered Rader given credit for 5 weeks he has spent in jail awaiting disposition of his case.

DIET FOR TEEN-AGERS

Outwit Your Stomach

By Ruth West

Science is just discovering what teen-agers have known all along: snacking is A Good Thing. Now it's called Scientific Nibbling.

Experience in nutrition laboratories and clinics indicates that with these between meals you want less food at the next meal. Even more important, they keep your energy and morale high during slump times.

Also, chew a lot. Privately. Yes, I'll say it: chew gum to get slim and stay slim.

Gum—Never Be Without It!

Nothing you put in your mouth is as useful in helping you lose weight as gum.

Laboratory-proved fact: A stick of gum can temporarily "kid" your stomach into thinking it has had a small meal. And you get a quick lift out of the minuscule amount of sugar in a stick of gum (no flavor contains more than 7 calories). Whatever makes you suddenly want to eat like crazy, can often be diverted or lessened by a stick of your favorite flavor.

Drink Up, To Eat Less

The next time you feel eager to sit down and stuff, play a trick on yourself. Drink lots of something that's low-calorie and pleasant-tasting. It will nip your budding appetite.

Suppose you've been working on sets for the school play all afternoon, and at 5 o'clock you leave school pleasantly tired, and aware that dinner's at least an hour away.

You say to yourself, "Oh, boy! Me for an ice cream soda. Now!"

Is this hunger? Not necessarily. Chances are you're bone dry all the way down your gullet. All your stomach knows is that it's unhappy. But what your body may really want most is a flood of pleasant-tasting wet stuff to refresh your mouth, to fill you up and wet you down, restore your juices. Plus some relaxation and rest.

Once at the soda fountain, you probably ask for a big glass of water along with the soda. Then you quickly proceed to suck up 450 calories in no time flat because they taste sweet. Wouldn't it be wiser to have the water, then a lemonade and skip 375 calories?

Here are some home-ground rules to make it easy for you to hit the liquids and cut calories:

Rule 1: Make it fun. If possible, have a soft-drink "bar" in the corner of the kitchen, complete with your mother's electric mixer and all the fixings on display. Have a bowl of fruit, cinnamon sticks, bottles of liquid sweetener, jars of crystal-sweeteners, garnishes. Also have tall glasses, mugs, a tray.

Rule 2: Keep the pantry full of sugarless carbonated beverages, flavorized straws, assorted fruit flavors and fruit juices, sweetened without sugar. Also the low-calorie fruit concentrates, and dips of low-calorie ice cream for an ice-cream soda.

Rule 3: Keep saccharin in forms which dissolve in cold liquids as well as hot.

Rule 4: Don't forget sugarless chocolate syrup and low-calorie prepared cocoa mix.

Rule 5: For milk shakes, chocolate milk, and such, make a fractionated skim milk with only one tablespoon of fat-free instant dry milk to 8 ounces of water. This amounts to only 25 calories.

The Star In Suburbia

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Some ten Lincoln couples received anonymous postcards early in November telling them to reserve the evening of Dec. 13 for fun and frolic with the "Funmakers." In The Star on Saturday morning there appeared a further message in the personal column of the want ads advising the group to meet in the lobby of the Cornhusker Hotel.

After their arrival at the hotel the guests received a telegram offering clues which finally led to the discovery that the hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perry.

The informal party and midnight supper were held at the Perry home.

Learned that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ducker will be spending the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Ducker's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shainholtz of Omaha.

Also present for the family Christmas celebration will be Mr. and Mrs. Shainholtz' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falk, and their new 3 month-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, of Lawrence, Ind. Mrs. Falk will be remembered as the former Jody Shainholtz, Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Nebraska.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Celebrating her fourth birthday on Sunday was Sandra Elmelund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle A. Elmelund. In honor of the occasion, Sandra's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elmeland, all of Wahoo, were guests at the Elmelund home for a family party on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bias will be host and hostess to dinner guests on Christmas Day. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dohnan and their two children, and Mrs. Richard Westermann and Stephen and Susan.

Mention of Mrs. Westermann reminds us that she will have as her guests for an informal bridge session on Saturday evening Mrs. Phillip Maxwell, Mrs. William Lawless and Mrs. Len Sheffer.

Dear Abby . . .

Paid For Your "Catch!"

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Not wishing to reveal my identity, let's just say I am a man whose business takes me into the homes of my clients. While on a business call (to present the bill) a very attractive woman practically "threw herself" at me. Being human, I "caught" her. When I presented my bill for what she owed me, (labor and materials) she tore it into little pieces. It amounted to $400. I took it to my lawyer and he advised me to forget the bill, the woman, and the incident. Should I?

"HOMO SAPIEN"

DEAR SAP: Take your lawyer's advice. You're lucky she didn't add an amusement tax.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "LUCILLE," the woman who is taking away our Daddy.

"Yes, Lucille, what about us kids? We were happy before you came long. Why don't you find your own man instead of our Mommy's man? Don't you know about the Ten Commandments? I go to Sunday School and learns about Jesus and Mommy says when it rains Jesus is crying beause someone was bad. It rained here all day beause you were bad and took our Daddy away. Please go away and leave our Daddy alone. Please put this in your paper, Miss Abby, and I wish you a Merry Christmas.

THIRD-GRADER

DEAR ABBY: My husband's second cousin, age 65, is going to marry a man, age 67, in January. Her husband and his wife passed away last summer. She is going to be married in a white dress and wedding veil. She asked my husband to give her away. I refuse to attend the wedding and see them make fools of themselves. Am I wrong? Shouldn't the preacher talk them into having a quiet wedding? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: The preacher will probably prevail upon them to dispense with the gown and veil type wedding. If they insist, and your husband "gives the bride away" . . . don't be conspicious by your absence.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I'm wrong, but with my family the children seem to run everything. At an adult party, the children are the center of attraction. When I visit any one of my sisters or brothers, their children have to be right in the middle of everything we say or do. I have one boy, 4 years old. When anyone comes to see me, he says "hello" and then goes into his bedroom or outside to play. Am I right? Or do children belong in their mother's laps and in every adult conversation until they reach the age of 16?

ROSE

DEAR ROSE: If you are wrong, then that makes two of us.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DOOMED:" Everyone has a problem. Those living in the cellar have to watch out for rats. Those in penthouses have to watch out for pigeons. Cheer up!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

CHATTER IN THE CORRIDOR

BETH

BY BETH DERING
Of University High School

"Fight, Team, Fight", and "Victory, Victory", were some of the chants which could be heard by Uni High students last Friday and Saturday night as we had a victorious opening week end for our basketball season.

The rally held Friday added to the victory spirit.

The Parent-Teacher-Student Association had its Christmas dinner and program Tuesday night, Dec. 2. The dinner was served in the school cafeteria. Before the program, which was presented by the junior high, the members of the senior high brass sextet played a selection of Christmas carols. The sextet consists of Ellwyn Campbell, Jon Ruthven, Ted Jackson, Richard Miles, Roger Fenner and Jim Wickless.

Introducing the TUTORS—Returning for more varsity basketball play this year will be Jerry Friis.

Jerry is a member of the senior class and has been a member of the Uni High student body since he was a freshman.

Reserve basketball took most of Jerry's time the first year he was at Uni. However, the remaining years have been spent on the varsity squad. He has lettered twice in varsity basketball.

Last year Jerry also spent some time in track. He was a member of the mile relay team. Because of his sports ability Jerry has been a member of the U Club for the past two years.

In his sophomore year, he took some time out from basketball to serve as the class president. Although he will be busy again this year he will be serving as the president of the Lincoln Youth Council.

When not working with school activities Jerry spends his time playing the accordion. He has played for several school assemblies and the Varsity Show.

When finished with his education at Uni, Jerry plans to attend college. Even though he is undecided as to the school, he plans to major in math and later to enter the engineering field.

Jerry is the tallest player on the squad. He stands 6 feet, 4 inches and weighs 195 pounds. When the basketball team plays at home he wears jersey number 66.

The only comment Jerry had to make about this season's schedule is, "It's rough!" Uni, which is a class B team, will play one Class AA school, eight Class A teams and seven Class B squads.

Jerry lives with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Friis, at 2811 South 11th St.

Convention

The members of the Northeast Nabors Extension Club held their Christmas party last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Morford.

Gifts were exchanged between secret pals, whose identities were revealed, and names were drawn for new pals. A cookie exchange also was held and Mrs. Fred Hroman led the group in carol singing.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Cheuvront.

Mothers Club

More than 300 attended the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Pershing School Mothers Club and were entertained at a program of Christmas music given by the students.

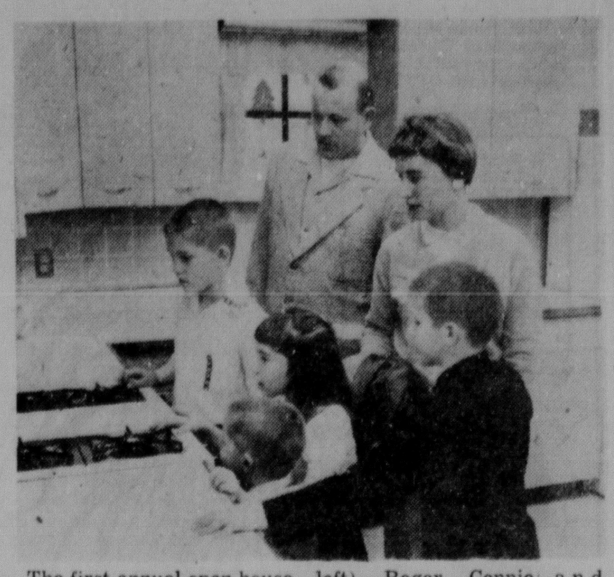

The program also included carols by the Northeast High School Triple Trio and talks on Christmas customs in their native lands by a group of foreign exchange students.

A coffee hour concluded the afternoon.

PTA UNITS HOLD ANNUAL YULE PROGRAMS

The first annual open house of the new Dawes School was held Tuesday evening for the parents of elementary pupils. Following a 7:30 o'clock program, the parents and their children visited the gaily-decorated classrooms.

Pictured are (from the left), Roger, Connie and Randy Griffin, Jay Elliott, and Mrs. and Mrs. Ernie Griffin. Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Elliott.

On Wednesday evening, a similar program and open house will be held at the school for parents of Dawes Junior High students.

The December meeting and annual Christmas open house of HAWTHORNE PTA was held Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was opened by the Rev. T. H. Huxtable, who spoke on, "Christmas Thoughts," and Christmas music was given by the school chorus.

The traditional Christmas program of HUNTINGTON PTA was held Tuesday afternoon at the school and featured music by the 5th and 6th grade chorus, and a Christmas play by Mrs. Magorian's 3rd grade pupils assisted by 1st, 2nd and 4th graders.

CALVERT PTA members met at the school Tuesday evening. The Christmas program included songs by the 5th and 6th chorus, directed by Miss Mildred Ohslund, after which the parents visited the classrooms.

The annual Christmas program of BELMONT PTA was held Tuesday evening. The program was presented by 4th, 5th and 6th grade students and was followed by a social hour for which mothers of 6th graders were hostesses.

The members of PRESCOTT PTA met at the school on Tuesday morning for a short meeting at which Mrs. Floyd Bryan presided.

The program was opened with a devotional service led by Mrs. Richard Johnson, and a talk on, "Christmas Music," was given by Paul Reynolds, director of music for First-Plymouth Congregational Church. A program of carols was presented by the 6th grade chorus with Gisela Wajsman as soloist.

Hostesses for the morning were Mrs. Lawrence Davis, Mr. R. L. Statton and Mrs. Merk Hobson.

A series of tableaux, "The Nativity," was given by 6th graders Tuesday evening at the meeting of SARATOGA PTA. The 6th grade choir, under the direction of Miss Alma Hahn, presented a program of Christmas carols. Accompanist was Miss Verna Loos, and narrators for the pageant were Don Berglund and Leslie Prai.

We Hear That

Coming home for the holidays on Thursday will be Tom Sawyer who attends St. James Military School in Faribault, Minn. Tom will spend his three-week vacation with his mother, Mrs. Blanche Sawyer, and will return to school on Jan. 7.

PLAN INSURANCE FOR GRID COACH

Missouri Alumni Like Dan Devine

Kansas City (AP)—Alumni were reported Tuesday to be trying to make sure Dan Devine will continue indefinitely as head football coach at the University of Missouri.

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Star, wrote that "to make Dan's stay at Missouri as financially secure as possible a letter is being sent to members of the alumni in which it is proposed to purchase a $200,000 20-pay life insurance policy for the new head coach."

Devine just completed his first season at Missouri after having coached at Arizona State at Tempe. He had a successful season.

Mehl wrote that Rich Coburn of St. Louis originated the insurance proposal. Under it, alumni would be asked to donote $25 annually toward the premiums, which would be about $4,400 a year.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat said it had learned the policy was for a total of $150,000, not $200,000. The Globe also said it had been told the offer came at an opportune time — that Devine had been offered the head coaching job at the University of Maryland as a successor to Tommy Mont.

Mehl quoted from the letter to alumni:

"Many of us who have followed the Missouri football program very carefully feel that we have one of the great young coaches in America in Dan Devine. Many of us, too, are afraid that with the splendid year he has had in his first year at Missouri, that he will be sought after, particularly by Minnesota and Michigan State, both of whom are in the process weekly of hanging their coaches in effigy."

On the campus at Columbia, Mo., director of athletics Don Faurot said he had not been informed of the details but thought the insurance policy for Devine "a darned good idea."

Faurot, Devine's immediate boss, said he believes the proposal would break no rules, either those of the university or of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Stoehr, Sheary Trigger NWU To 76-74 Overtime Triunph

Wesleyan Chalks Up 5th Win In Row

Lincoln Star Special

Omaha—Rudy Stoehr's field goal and a free toss by Lew Sheary in the waning moments of an overtime session netted Nebraska Wesleyan a 76-74 victory over Omaha University here Tuesday night in a basketball thriller.

The victory was the 5th in a row for the unbeaten Plainsmen this season, but came by a prolonged route.

The regulation contest ended in a 68-68 deadlock as Omaha's Tal Anderson sank a pair of free throws with 5 seconds left to knot the score. The lead changed hands 4 times in the overtime before Stoehr's bucket put the Plainsmen ahead for good.

After a 70-70 tie in the extra session, Wesleyan soph Ron Gillham dropped in a free throw for a 71-70 NWU lead, but Omaha's Anderson added 2 more free tosses to make it 72-71. Gillham hit a fielder to make it 73-72, but Frank Huber sent Omaha back ahead 74-73 before Stoehr came through with the clincher.

Indians Rally

Wesleyan had built a 67-58 lead with 2:30 to go in the regulation contest—the widest margin either team enjoyed during the game—but 6 charity shots by Anderson brought the Indians back to a tie.

The game was close and rough all the way, with Wesleyan leading 6 times, Omaha 5 and the score tied 4 times in the first half before the Plainsmen grabbed a 37-34 margin before the rest period.

Wesleyan held the lead through the second half except for a brief Omaha margin at 50-49 midway through the session.

67-58 Lead

Dale Wharton's field goal erased this deficit and the Plainsmen went on to build their 67-58 margin before Omaha rallied to bring on the overtime.

Stoehr hit 22 points to lead all scorers while Wharton added 12 and sophs Gillham and Dennis Semin added 9 and 8 for the Plainsmen.

Five players hit in double figures for Omaha with Dick Hegarty's 16—most of which came in the first half—high. Phil Gradoville and Anderson each managed 13 while Bill Harmon hit 12 and Huber 11.

SOUTHPAWS, YANKS TOP AL HURLING

Chicago (AP) — Lefthanders dominated the American League pitching scene last season with the World Champion New York Yankees again topping the entire loop.

Four of the 5 top hurlers in earned run average were southpaws headed by Yankee Whitey Ford. The Yankee staff had an aggregate ERA of 3.22, slightly higher than the 3.00 posted by the perennial champions in 1957.

Ford finished with 2.01, far ahead of Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce's 2.68. Baltimore lefthander Jack Harshman was 3rd with 2.90 followed by Detroit righthander Frank Lary with 2.91. In 5th place was Baltimore portsider Billy O'Dell with 2.97.

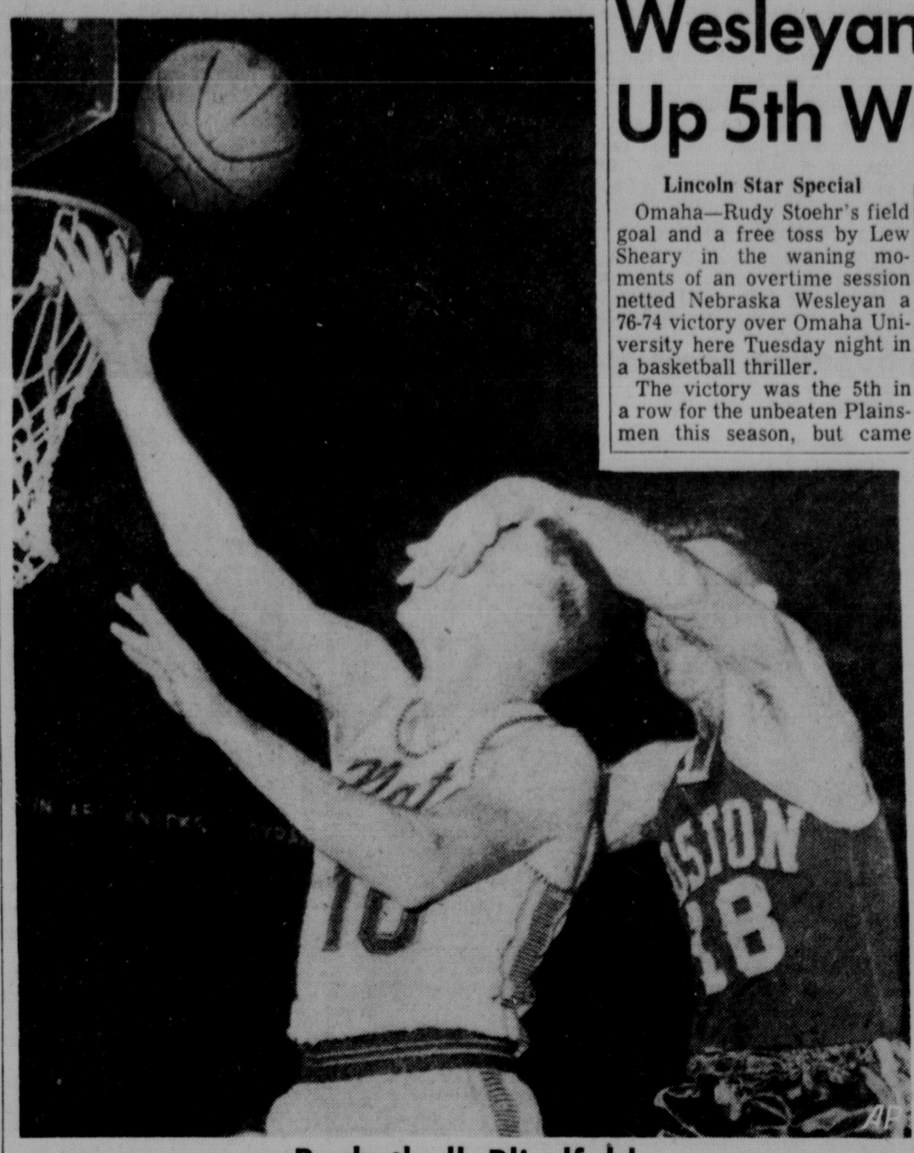

The only others to finish belon 3.00 and work in 154 innings were righthanders Bob Turley of the Yankees and Cal McLish of Cleveland. Turley, enjoying his greatest season, had a 2.98 and McLish, 2.99.

Second to New York in team figures was Baltimore with 3.40. Detroit was 3rd with 3.59 followed by Chicago with 3.61, Cleveland 3.73, Boston 3.92, Kansas City 4.15 and Washington 4.53.

Turley was the league's only 20-game winner with a 21-7 record and a .750 percentage—which was high in the ciriuit. Pierce was second in total victories with 17.

Ford led the league in shutouts with 7. Turley had 6. Turley, Pierce and Lary tied for most complete games with 19. Despite his great season, Turley led the league in walks with 128 only two of which were intentional.

Chicago righthander Early Wynn was first in strikeouts with 179 and upped his career total to 6,037. Lary pitched the most innings, 260.

Basketball Blindfold

John Kerr, 6-9 center for the Syracuse Nationals, not only loses his view of the basket but the ball as well as he is fouled by Boston Celtic forward Jim Loscutoff in a game at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night. Boston won 108-104.

Controversial Kramer Will Miss Yankee's Tennis Bid

Perth (AP)—Capt. Berry Jones will send his U.S. Davis Cup team against Italy Friday without the aid of Jack Kramer, his controversial chief counsel.

The pro promoter, who has been sharply criticized in some quarters for his dual tennis role, left for Sydney Tuesday night to button up some details of his forthcoming professional tour.

In Sydney

"I will be in Sydney over the weekend and will miss the Italian matches," Kramer said.

This development adds emphasis to the contention of Jones and Kramer that the pro promoter's role with the Davis Cup team is purely advisory.

"Jack has been of tremendous value to us during the past week," Jones said. "We will miss him, naturally, but he will rejoin us at Brisbane if we win early next week."

Business

Jones wanted it made clear that Kramer's absence from the interzone was due to business and not outside pressures.

Kramer's professional headaches increased with a movement by the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia to ask the world federation to follow Australia's ban of the pro tennis troupe from amateur stadiums of the world.

Thus it will be up to Jones to name the U.S. lineup to face Italy at Royal Kings Park Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The 70-year-old Jones insists he has not made up his mind.

There is growing indication that Jones may pass ovr Barry MacKay, U.S. hero of last year's challenge round, and use Alex Olmedo of Peru and Southern California, along with Ham Richardson in the singles.

A match between MacKay and Olmedo may be staged today to decide the knotty problem.

Racing Writer Bill Corum Dies At 63

New York (AP)—Bill Corum, long-time sports columnist for the New York Journal-American and president of Churchill Downs race track, died Tuesday night after an illness of two months.

Corum, who was 63, first became ill during the World Series in October and was hospitalized for several weeks. He reentered St. Luke's hospital last week. He was under treatment for pneumonia.

Born Martene Windsor Corum at Speed, Mo. July 20, 1895, he had been one of the nation's best known sports writers since he joined the Journal-American as a baseball writer in 1925.

He became president of Churchill Downs and head man of America's top horse race, the Kentucky Derby, in 1949 after the death of Col. Matt Winn.

HICKEY ACCENTS DESIRE

49ers' Aide Named Coach

San Francisco (AP)—A red-haired Irishman, Howard (Red) Hickey, who calls desire the biggest thing in football, moved up Tuesday from assistant to head coach of the San Francisco 49ers.

Desire, said the 41-year-old graduate of pro ranks, can win the 49ers the National Football League title which eluded 3 predecessors. Hickey insisted he is going to have that desire—either from the present players or by others.

"I feel this club has the nucleus to become a winner," the former University of Arkansas end told the press conference at which his 3-year contract was announced.

"But we need help."

Hickey replaced Frankie Albert, who said the fans' boos were too much for his wife and 3 daughters to take.

"I don't think it (the boos) will bother me," the 225-pound coach of the 49er offensive backs and ends, reflected.

"My family feels the same way I do."

Earlier Hickey's wife had joshed:

"Maybe I'll have to buy ear plugs. At least we have sons, not daughters like Frank. Boys are able to take these things better."

Under questions about the 49ers' nucleus, Hickey mentioned by name only his quarterbacks, Y. A. Tittle and John Brodie.

"In Tittle and Brodie I feel we have the best one-two punch in football.

To a question about aging veterans such as Joe Perry, Hickey said:

"I don't judge a man by his age but by his performance. Age is only mental. I was 31 my last year in the league (with the Los Angeles Rams) and it was my best year. Age will have nothing to do with whether a man makes this ball club."

Vic Morabito, principal 49-er owner, noted that Hickey is the first man to get a 3-year contract since the 49ers' first coach, Buck Shaw.

"I wanted a pro," Morabito explained.

'Spoiler' Vasquez After Win Tonight

Washington (AP)—Baby Vasquez, the little Matador from Mexico City, returns to the ring here tonight after a long absence—hoping to puncture the ambitions of another up and coming boxer.

Vasquez meets Chicago's Eddie Perkins in a 10-round lightweight scrap which will be televised nationally (ABC, 9 p.m. CST) from Capitol Arena.

The stumpy lightweight champ of Mexico, whose real name is Jose Bernabe Vasquez Rodriguez, last appeared here Aug. 31, 1956. On that steaming summer night he melted Jimmy Soo's 33-fight string of victories with a 6th round technical knockout.

Perkins now, as Soo was then, is one of the bright young lightweight prospects. But Vasquez now, unlike then, is a slight favorite to disenchant his opponent.

Drake Topples

Chicago (AP)—Loyola of Chicago, pressed all the way, remained undefeated after a 74-71 victory over Drake—its 5th victim of the season.

Cowboys Stunned By Tulsa

Tulsa (AP)—The University of Tulsa grabbed a lead with 9 minutes and 16 seconds left in the first half and kept in front the rest of the way for a 71-50 victory over Oklahoma State in the 69th game of their intrastate basketball feud.

High scorer was Roger Wendell, Tulsa guard, with 27 points.

What might have been department—

There are definite signs that the Big 8 basketball lineup isn't as strong this year as in past campaigns.

Last weekend was the tipoff: league teams managed only two wins in 6 games on Saturday and only 3 wins in 9 games for the weekend. After a first-week of 11 wins and 4 losses, the Big 8 slipped to 10 of 18 last week for a season mark of 21-12 going into this week's play.

Monday night's firing—Nebraska was the only winner in 4 outings—pulled the league mark down to 22-15.

The conference should still win its share of games, but it would border on the sensational if personnel losses hadn't been so high.

Take Nebraska, for instance. The Huskers have excellent personnel in Hersch Turner, Al Maxey, Bob Harry, Wayne Hester and Jim Kowalke. But missing is a "big man" of the 6-8 or so variety.

Chamberlain

Chances are the Scarlets would be top drawer if either Ron Parsons or Bob Mayo—both 6-8 were still on hand and playing up to their potentials. Parsons would have been a senior this year if he hadn't pulled stakes and enrolled at Bowling Green.

Mayo would have been a junior. He's now bulwarking Peru State Teachers.

But that's the way the cookie crumbles and Nebraska isn't the only team in the circuit to miss boys who might have been.

Kansas is off to its worst start in memory and doesn't have a tall pivot man (shades of Clyde Lovellette and B. H. Born.)

Why? Wilt Chamberlain took a $65,000 offer from Abe Saperstein and changed KU from a solid contender to just one of the pack.

Every team in the league, with the possible exception of Iowa State, can point to boys who would have helped this year but are no longer around.

Missouri lost Sonny Siebert to pro baseball.

Oklahoma State lost Jerry Adair and Jerry Webster to the same business and Hank Iba's son, Moe, considered a fine shooter, is out with an injury.

Kansas State—still the favorite because of Bob Boozer and Wally Frank—will find the going tougher because 6-6 soph Larry Comley turned up ineligible and Glen Long wrenched his knee.

And if Boozer's trick knee injury, suffered Monday night in the loss to Brigham Young, sidelines him for any length of time, the league race will be thrown wide open.

Colorado, rounding into a solid club with Gerry Schroeder as the sparkplug, would have been much tougher if 6-9 Bill Wrage hadn't quit school.

Oklahoma, too, can shed a few tears. It it hadn't been for a pro baseball offer, Don Schwall—a tremendous shooter—would be on tap for his senior year.

Biggest loss, of course, was Chamberlain, particularly in the crowd-getting department. Kansas drew only 11,500 in its first two home games this year, compared to 29,000 in the first pair last season when Wilt was performing.

But the entire league can point to standout players who have departed. And all would probably have helped the Big 8 live up to its basketball reputation this year.

Pirates Banking On Big Slugger Next Summer

KLU SAYS HE'LL GIVE STUART REAL BATTLE

Pittsburgh (AP) — "Ted Kluszewski definitely will be back with us and I expect him to make a real fight for the regular first base job," General Manager Joe Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates said Tuesday.

Klu

"We'll be sending out our contracts soon, possibly before Christmas, and Ted is one of the men we are definitely counting on for next season."

"I'm glad to hear that," Kluszewski told the Associated Press from his home in Cincinnati, Ohio. "I am in good shape. My back feels okay and I think I can play every day if I get the chance. I expect to give Dick Stuart or anyone else a real battle for the regular first base job."

Stuart is the minor league home run hitting sensation who joined the Pirates in the last half of the 1958 season and displaced Big Klu. Dick, who is 25, played 67 games for the Bucs, driving in 48 runs. He hit 16 homers, 12 doubles and 5 triples as he compiled a .268 batting average.

Kluszewski, obtained from the Cincinnati Redlegs, played in 100 games this year in his first season with the Pirates. He hit only 4 home runs and wound up with a .292 batting average. After Stuart joined the club, Kluszewski was used mostly as a pinch hitter.

Stuart

Also seeking the first base spot with the Pirates next season will be the 34-year-old Rocky Nelson who was drafted a short time ago from Toronto of the International League where he hit 43 homers.

"We got Rocky for insurance," Brown said. "Whoever wins the first base job will have to work for it. R. C. Stevens will be back from the Army reserve training program next summer, too."

The 34-year-old Kluszewski was troubled with back trouble at Cincinnati. He said he still had some pain last season but that he feels he can play every day "and give everyone a real battle for the job."

"All The Way"

"I think I can help the club and maybe this time we'll go all the way and win the pennant instead of finishing second," Kluszewski declared. "And what do I think of Stuart? He's a helluva good ball player."

Both Brown and Kluszewski declined to comment on the salary situation. Klu received between $30,000 and $35,000 last season.

"One thing you can add about Klu," Brown said. "The statistics don't show how much he meant to the Pirates. He's a great morale builder and a pro all the way."

Giants' Slogan For Sunday: Stop Cleveland's Jim Brown

New York (AP)—"Stop Jimmy Brown." That is the order of the week for the New York Giants who must beat Cleveland again in Sunday's tie playoff to reach the championship finals of the National Football League.

The winner will meet Baltimore Dec. 28 for the league crown.

The Giants' coaching staff took a long, hard look at the movies of last Sunday's 13-10 victory today while the squad enjoyed a bonus holiday. Only men needing medical care showed up at Yankee Stadium.

When the full squad reports for today's long workout, the emphasis again will be placed on the "Stop Brown" campaign.

"No one is close to him as a fullback," said Coach Jim Lee Howell. "We haven't stopped him yet. He didn't score again Sunday after that long run on the first play but he 'possessed' the ball in the 3rd quarter. He is a great athlete."

Although the Giants did a good job containing the former Syracuse star in their two 1958 meetings, the figures show that Brown gained 261 yards in 39 carries against the Giants or just under 7 yards a try. Two long touchdown runs of 58 and 65 yards boosted the average but he also ground it out at a steady pace.

In the first game at Cleveland, (won by New York 21-17) Brown burst through the middle and raced 58 yards for a touchdown after it seemed he had been stopped. "We stopped him but nobody had a hand on him, so he kept moving," Howell explained later.

Brown finished the year with a league ground-gaining record of 1,527 yards. To put it mildly, he is the key to Browns' offense.

Colgate Coach Nixes Rumors

Hamilton, N.Y. (AP) — Fred Rice, head football coach at Colgate University, denied Tuesday a report that he had been fired.

The Syracuse Herald-Journal reported that Rice had been fired.

The newspaper said several candidates for the job already had been "talked to." Official word of Rice's firing probably will be made next month in Cincinnati at the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. convention, the newspaper said.

Everett D. Barnes, Colgate athletic director, said no changes in the football coaching staff had been made. "Any change of that nature would have to be discussed by the university's athletic council," he said. The council's next regular meeting is scheduled for Jan. 15 in New York.

AP Basketball Leaders Not Secure; K-State 1st To Fall

By The Associated Press

Basketball teams that have been tabbed as national leaders at this early stage of the season are doing their best to knock one another out of the top ten in the rankings. In fact, it almost appears as if the schedules had been set up with this in mind.

Already West Virginia and Kansas State have learned that undefeated basketball seasons are very rare. Several others may get the same lesson before this week is over.

The top 3 in the current Associated Press ranking poll, based on performances through last Saturday, are Cincinnati, Kentucky and Kansas State. They retained the positions they held in the first weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

But almost before the votes were counted this week, Kansas State had taken its first defeat of the season and Kentucky had to play an overtime period to win its 6th straight. Kansas State, after two close calls against California and San Francisco, was taken 77-68 by Brigham Young Monday night and Kentucky pulled out a 58-56 overtime decision over Maryland.

N.C. St. 4th

These games, of course, weren't considered in the voting for this week's rankings, but an upset by Virginia last Saturday dropped West Virginia from 4th to 7th on the list, allowing North Carolina State to advance to 4th.

Behind N.C. State in the top ten listing were Tennessee, Northwestern, West Virginia, Mississippi State, Xavier (Ohio) and North Carolina. Bradley and Michigan State tied for 11th place.

The top 10 teams with first place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Dec. 13 in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc basis):

1.	Cincinnati	(40)	(3-0)	938
2.	Kentucky	(39)	(5-0)	910
3.	Kansas State	(9)	(4-0)	741
4.	North Carolina State	(5)	(4-0)	456
5.	Tennessee		(4-0)	431
6.	Northwestern	(2)	(3-0)	309
7.	West Virginia	(4)	(5-1)	284

9.	Xavier	(1)	(4-0)	203
10.	North Carolina	(1)	(2-0)	155

The second ten: Bradley and Michigan State 123 each; Auburn 114; St. Joseph's (Pa.) 97; California 71; Seattle (2) 50; St. Louis 47; Pittsburgh 39; UCLA 35; Southern Methodist 34.

Hawk's Pettit Setting Pace In Pro Basketball Scoring

New York (AP) — Big Bob Pettit, star forward of the champion St. Louis Hawks, has taken a solid lead in the National Basketball Assn.'s scoring race.

Pettit has 684 points and a 28.5 average for 24 games. Paul Arizin, veteran Philadelphia ace, is the runner-up with 638 points and a 25.5 average for 25 games, the official league figures revealed Tuesday.

Both leaders are former titleholders. Pettit won in 1955-56 and Arizin in 1951-52 and 1956-57.

Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis, the circuit's outstanding rookie, holds the No. 3 position in this year's race with 611 points in 24 games. Then come George Yardley of Detroit, the defending titlist, with 575 points and Jack Twyman of Cincinnati, 543.

BEATRICE'S LOCKWOOD PREP CAGER OF WEEK

By Al Beebe

Generally more at home on a football field, Beatrice's Bob Lockwood wins the Star's "Basketball Player of the Week" award for his work in the Orangemen's 58-41 upset of Grand Island last week.

Big Bob will never be a smooth cager, but he makes up for what he lacks in finesse with a fierce determination which makes him a standout in all sports.

Rebounding Tops

For example, Lockwood was stricken with sleeping sickness early last fall and was expected to miss most of the football season, if he got back in action at all. He did, and helped Beatrice to several late-season victories.

Against Grand Island, his rebounding was a major factor in a game against a taller club. Although the scoring was evenly divided in a team effort, Lockwood's 3 quick buckets in the second period turned the tide definitely in Beatrice's favor.

Other top stars of last week, who will also receive "Basketball Player of the Week" cards:

Lincoln Southeast—Denny Puelz scored 18 points and helped repulse Lincoln Northeast rallies in 52-46 win.

Pius X—Paul Ryan's basket in the final minute beat Seward Concordia.

Gering—Chip Wood hit 48 points in wins over Kimball and Alliance.

Columbus — Loren Henggeler was sparkler in upsets of Omaha Westside and Hastings.

Valparaiso—Dave Masek's 24 and 22 point performance kept his club rolling.

Mother-In-Law Of Bush Dies

Mrs. Einar Hansen, 60, mother-in-law of University of Nebraska basketball coach Jerry Bush, died early Tuesday morning in Brooklyn, N. Y., where she lived. Mrs. Bush has gone to Brooklyn.

Other survivors include Mrs. Hansen's husband, Einar; another daughter, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, and a son, Edward, all of Brooklyn.

Playoff Game To Be Taped

New York (AP)—If you miss a vital play in the first half of Sunday's National Football League playoff game between the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns, just relax. The Columbia Broadcasting System, which is televising the game nationally, said Tuesday a video tape recording of first half highlights would be shown during the intermission. Game time is 1 p.m. CST.

5 Scouts Out

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore Colts aren't taking any chances on missing anything that will help against their opponent in the National Football League championship game on Dec. 28.

The entire 5-man coaching staff headed by Web Ewbank will scout the Eastern Division playoff game Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants.

Browns Put Tickets On Sale; Need Win

Cleveland (AP)—The Cleveland Browns put tickets on sale for a National Football League championship game here Dec. 28.

A spokesman for the club said the ticket sale was being started even though the Browns have to beat the New York Giants Sunday to get into the championship game with the Baltimore Colts.

If the Browns lose to the Giants Sunday—their 3rd meeting with the Giants this year—the fans will get their money back.

Joint City-County Planning Board May Get OK By End Of Month

By Del Harding

The much-delayed proposal to establish a joint City-County Planning Commission may receive final approval by the end of the month.

Atty. Robert Guenzel appeared before the County Board Tuesday and said reports from the City Planning Commission and from a city-county committee which has been studying the proposal will be given to both the Board and City Council next week.

If the reports are favorable, and it is expected they will be, appropriate legislation probably will be passed by the Board and Council to establish the joint commission, which would plan future city and county development and handle zoning matters.

Target Date—July 1

The Board and Council last summer had set July 1 as a target date for forming the joint commission, but the matter was not taken up again until last week after prodding by Guenzel, who as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce city-county governmental affairs committee has been one of the main proponents of the plan.

An ordinance establishing the joint commission was introduced Monday at the Council meeting, and it will come up for a public hearing and final action Dec. 29.

The Board, however, has only to pass a resolution to join in setting up the commission. This could be done at next Tuesday's meeting.

The city now has its own planning commission, but the County Board has been handling county zoning matters.

County Board OKs Month Of Maternity Leave Salary

The salary claim of a county employe off work more than one month on maternity leave was approved Tuesday by the County Board over the heated objections of Commissioner Del Lienemann.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm and Commissioner Rollin Bailey signed the $310 claim submitted for payment of a December salary to Mrs. Gloria Jacox of 4211 M, who is the Board's secretary.

Lienemann charged the county taxpayers are being "taken for a ride" because of the salary payment to Mrs. Jacox, who has not worked since Nov. 5. He said "the taxpayers . . . have paid over $500 thus far for the secretary of the County Commissioners to take leave of absence to have her baby."

Who Does It

"What private employer, does this," Lienemann asked. Would either Mr. Bailey or Mr. Brehm do this in their private business? The answer is obvious."

Brehm replied that Mrs. Jacox has worked for the county 7 years, two in the Assessor's office and 5 as Board secretary. She has, he said, put in much evening work without extra pay, and will be a great help to the two new commissioners taking office in January.

Brehm said the county has no established policy on how much sick leave an employe is entitled to.

Mrs. Jacox, whose baby is now about one month old, is expected to return to work soon, Brehm said.

County Also Extends Life Of Authority

The Lancaster County Board Tuesday joined the City Council in extending the life of the City-County Building Authority Inc. for 6 more years.

The Council had approved the extension Monday.

The Authority was organized to plan for eventual construction of a city-county building to house city and county offices. It was due to expire Dec. 31.

The Board unanimously approved the extension, after Commissioner Del Lienemann was assured by Commissioners-elect Ralph Harlan and Kenneth Bourne (both attending the weekly meeting) that they favored the move.

Atty. Leo Bartunek was the only person to speak in opposition to the extension. He charged the Authority was a "communistic" plan for getting additional office space for the city and county.

Taverns To Close An Hour Later On New Years

A one-hour extension of closing hours for Lancaster County taverns on New Year's Eve was granted by the County Board Tuesday. Closing times for taverns which notify the Sheriff's office before Dec. 30 of their intention to remain open past the normal time will be 1 a.m. for on-sale beer and 1:30 a.m. for off-sale beer. The extension was also granted last year.

$150,000 Bond Set In Eppley Will Appeal Case

Omaha (AP)—County Judge Robert R. Troyer set bond at $150,000 Tuesday in the District Court appeal of Eugene C. Eppley will-contest case.

Judge Troyer admitted the millionaire hotelman's will to probate last weekk over objections of 5 persons claiming to be first cousins of Eppley.

Tax Reappraisal Report To County Board Dec. 23

The county's personal property tax reappraisal committee is now expected to make its report at the Dec. 23 County Board meeting.

It had been announced that the committee would report Tuesday. C. Russell Mattson, Harlan W. Cane and Colton Smith compose the committee, which has been making a tax study to determine if a county-wide reappraisal of business inventories is needed.

2 NU Debate Teams Handed Defeat In Finals

Two University of Nebraska debate teams survived the preliminary rounds and then were defeated in the final rounds at the nation's oldest debate tournament at Winfield, Kan.

About 40 schools were entered in the Southwestern College Tournament.

Dick Shugrue of Lincoln went through two preliminary rounds of oratory competition to place third in the finals.

Teams reaching the finals were: Wanda Head of Nebraska City and Phyllis Elliott of Lincoln; Donald J. Epp of Lincoln and I. R. Ashelman of Kansas City, Mo.

Teams eliminated in the preliminaries were Gary Hill of Lincoln and Shugrue; Robert Ross of York and Melvyn Eikleberry of Lincoln.

Aliens Reminded Time To Check With Uncle Sam

All aliens, with a few exceptions, who are in the United States on January 1, 1959 must report their addresses to the Attorney General by the end of that month.

Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement: (1) accredited diplomats; (2) persons accredited to certain international organizations; and (3) those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any post office or immigration office during the month of January.

District Director Robert C. Wilson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Omaha, said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the address reporting requirement.

Col. Clema Heads Group In Italy

He will assume the presidency of the Tuscany post during the coming year. The post only recently received its charter in the SAME.

Mrs. Clema is the former Sylvia Marie Kotouc of Humboldt.

Zonta Club Christmas Dinner Wednesday

The Lincoln Zonta Club will hold its annual Christmas dinner 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Southwest Community Center.

City Yellow Cabs Ask Rate Hike 'To Stay In Business'

The Yellow Cab Company of Lincoln Tuesday asked the State Railway Commission for authority to inaugurate an emergency rate increase in order to stay in business.

John R. Thompson, acting director of the motor transportation division of the Commission, said a hearing will be held on the rate increase request early in January.

The company asked for authority to change its basic fare from the present 35 cents for the first quarter mile to 45 cents for the first 2-5 of one mile.

The requested rate increase would provide for 5 cents for each additional 1-5 mile, as against the present rate of 5 cents for each additional ¼ mile.

No Extra Charge

There would be no extra charge for one to five passengers to or from the same destination.

E. E. Strube, president of the company, said the company showed a net loss of $29,687 for the first 9 months of this year.

Their net operating loss for the same period was $38,167, and Strube said that under the proposed increased rates, the company would show a net operating profit of $4,591 for the same period.

The company was granted a temporary rate increase in April, 1957 which the Commission made permanent in August of 1957.

Commission Basis

Strube said the firm's drivers operate on a commission basis (48.5%), which is all Yellow Cab is able to pay without becoming insolvent.

As a result of its inability to pay what it termed an adequate and living wage, the company has difficulty obtaining operators and generally has 10 cabs standing idle.

The company employs about 100 persons and operates 45 cabs.

Strube said the proposed rates would increase the average per trip rate from the present 65 cents to 85 cents.

May Be Honored

Paris (UPI) — French organizers of a gala performance to be given here Friday by Maria Meneghini Callas said the temperamental soprano probably would be decorated with France's Legion of Honor, barring some embarrassing incident.

President Rene Coty will be in the audience at the benefit performance in the Paris Opera House. Tickets have been sold out for months and nervous opera officials have been taking all possible precaution to prevent any new "Callas scandal."

If Necessary

An Air Base in Formosa (AP)—Lt. Col. James Jabara, credited with shooting down 15 MIGs in Korea, said he thought he could do as well here if necensary.

Jabara, the world's first jet ace, commands the 337th U.S. Air Force Fighter-Interceptor Squadron. The outfit arrived 10 days ago from Westover Air Force Base and took over the F104 Starfighters of the 83rd Squadron, which has gone back home.

'Foul Play' Suspected In Sioux City Death

Sioux City (AP) — Woodbury County Coroner Thomas L. Coriden said Tuesday night it appears that foul play was involved in the death of Mrs. Hilda Fletcher, 53, of Sioux City.

The frozen and bruised body of Mrs. Fletcher was found beneath a blood-spattered bed in her home Monday morning by a neighbor, William Jackson, 80.

Dr. Corden said death was caused by a brain hemorrhage.

Mrs. Fletcher was a diabetic, but tests showed that insulin shock was not a contributing factor in her death, Dr. Coriden said.

Police questioned a number of persons Monday—including neighbors—but no arrests were made.

Petitions Enough To Call For Vote On City-Run Buses

Omaha (AP)—"I think we have enough signatures" to force a vote on creation of a metropolitan transit authority, James P. White, president of the Transport Workers Union, said Tuesday.

He said the union planned to "run the signatures through for a check" as to their validity after the first of the year.

"All unions in Omaha are backing us in this drive and they still have a number of unreturned petitions," he said. "We're doing Omaha from one end to the other."

Under state law, the issue could be placed on the ballot by petition. The number of valid signatures must equal 5 per cent of the total vote for governor at the Nov. 4 election, or about 4,100.

Filing of the petitions next year would require a special election, something White said he would like to avoid because of cost to the city.

"I would prefer," he continued, "that the city take action on its own to restore adequate service to Omaha.

"I say the company is not providing service as required by franchise," White said. "The city can straighten this out if it wants to."

Griffin Examiner On Osteopathy Board

The State Board of Health has appointed C. S. Griffin, Seward, to the examiners board in osteopathy.

Reappointed were M. A. Casey, Auburn, board for funeral directors, and Lyle C. Emory, Lincoln, board in physical therapy.

Honesty Pays: 50c

Omaha (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Ernie L. Schwasinger of Omaha paid up a light bill Monday they had owed for almost 30 years. Then they got their money back.

The Schwasingers found the old bill, forwarded to them after they left Omaha in 1929, in a cigar box with some other papers. It was forgotten in the confusion of settling into a new home in Ogallala. Later the family moved to California, and then back to Omaha.

Last week they found the bill.

"If it's a bill, we'd better pay it," Mrs. Schwasinger said. Utilities District Assistant Manager Karl Joens accepted the payment, thanks for remembering it, and then gave them their money back.

Former Omahan Dies

Greenwich, Conn. (AP)—Floyd Monroe Smith, 84, father of Asst. Secretary of the Air Force Davis S. Smith, died Monday.

He lived with his wife in Greenwich for the past 15 years. They moved here from Omaha, Neb.

Smith retired many years ago.

Besides his wife Anna, and his son David, he leaves another son Monroe E., of Greenfield, Mass., and a daughter Mrs. Nathan Mobley of Greenwich.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday. Burial will be in Omaha.

Gold's explains why it takes less time to fill the S&H Green Stamp book

Gold's can point with pride to the "S.H." stamps they give, as a leader in a most important test of trading stamp value. "S.H." books fill faster . . . and there's no question about it. Most people who shop in Lincoln know that an "S.H." book requires fewer stamps . . . only 1200 . . . against 1400, 1500 and even 1600 for some of the other plans. But that's not all . . . your stamp books fill up faster . . . and you redeem them faster, if you can consistently use the plan represented in the greatest number of stores . . . because you then earn savings on all your shopping; not just some of them.

"S.H." is the one brand of stamps that stands out in this respect. In Lincolnland, as in the nation as a whole, there is no stamp plan that compares with "S.H." in the number and variety of stores that use it.

Think about this TIME factor before you go on your next family shopping trip. And we'll see you at Gold's.

Gold's OF NEBRASKA

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Do you realize how many shopping days are left until —? All right, all right, I was just asking. Just trying to be helpful.

We are in need of help ourselves. Have racked our brains for household presents. And this day are just as barren of inspiration as we were a month ago.

"Turtles, Daddy?"

There is a 3-year-old boy with a one-track mind. The nicest gift he can think of is a lively turtle. We have been warned never, never, never bring another turtle in the house.

We got a pair of turtles a month ago and they escaped from their $1.50 turtle palace. Disappeared into thin air. We think they are behind the stove—it is the only place we have not looked.

To move this stove, the stove people want a great deal of money. The turtles must stay. And I understand they pop out in the spring. All fresh and hungry from winter's hibernation, scaring the daylights out of whoever is cooking.

The word is out: "We are not going to fill this house with escaped turtles. And that's final!" Oh.

How about birds? We spend a lot of time looking in pet store windows. We know where you can buy a dandy Gila monster. Boy, is he ugly!

Birds, we think, might be OK.

There is a wonderful book on birds—if you know anybody that has a bird, you could buy them the book. The people, I mean. Not the bird.

The book costs $5 and is put out by the University of Michigan Press.

What I like best about it is the title: "The Birds."

No conning the innocent buyer in that one. Not like a lot of books. With dust jackets telling what a salty character the author is—(you show him smoking a pipe, that is how you do that one).

No odd titles. Like, "Too Late, Phyllis Willis."

No, sir. Just what the book is about: "The Birds." Information.

"If you try to raise young woodpeckers in a flower pot, you will find they cannot climb after they have left the nest; their claws have been worn down by the hard surface of the pot, to which evolution has not adapted them.

"You will have to bring them up in a wooden box if you want them normal."

There is a piece of writing that stands out, head and shoulders. It has power and punch. A hint of tragedy (the young woodpeckers who cannot climb) and the final triumph of normal wooden life.

It makes me want to go right out and raise woodpeckers.

I have both flower pots and wooden boxes. We have some woodpeckers up in the oak trees. I do not know who raised them. Probably other woodpeckers. Raised in a wooden box, I suspect. For they can climb and peck at the same time.

They are completely normal.

A bird for Christmas. That is not a bad idea. A bird and a wooden box and this book. That should make any Christmas merry.

Conrad Will Be Brooks Aide

Robert B. Conrad of Genoa was named Tuesday as administrative assistant to Gov.-elect Ralph Brooks.

The appointment of the 36-year-old attorney and Democratic executive secretary marks him as the top man in the new Democratic administration which takes office Jan 8.

Conrad

"This opportunity to work with . . . Brooks presents not only an opportunity to serve him but an opportunity to serve all Nebraska," Conrad said.

"R. G. (which to me stands for Real Governor) will provide Nebraska with an administration which is both responsible and responsive . . . responsible to the people of Nebraska and responsive to their interests.

"As a member of that administration, I hope to make a small down payment on the obligation I have always felt to this state for the privilege of being a Nebraskan by birth, by education and by experience."

Conrad, who played a giant role in 1958's revival of the two-party system in Nebraska through his work in organizing Democrats on the county level throughout the state, was particularly active in Brooks' campaign.

His appointment as administrative aide was expected.

Attorney

Conrad, an attorney in both Genoa and Columbus, is a member of the Episcopal Church. He was educated at Schuyler High School, Wayne State Teachers College and the University of Nebraska and its law college.

He was Nance County attorney from 1951 to March 1, 1958, is a former Genoa school board president and city attorney, a member of the State Education Committee on Approval and Accreditation, vice president of District 2, Nebraska State School Boards Administration and was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1956.

He was appointed Democratic executive secretary Jan. 14, 1958.

Conrad is a member of the Scottish Rite, an Elk, Lion and Mason, member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Bar Assn., Nebraska Bar Assn., and of legal and social fraternities.

He is married to the former Mildred Mastny of Schuyler and has two children, Charles, 7, and Jane, 5.

Conrad will function at an office in the Lincoln Hotel until his move to the Statehouse.

Rev. Gracey's Son Hurt In Accident In Connecticut

Lincoln Star Special

David Gracey, 9, son of The Rev. and Mrs. David Gracey, formerly of Lincoln, now of Waterbury, Conn., is in fair condition in a hospital there following an automobile accident Thursday.

The Rev. Mr. Gracey was formerly rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Lincoln.

His son was playing in the yard of the Gracey home when a car traveling at a high rate of speed, skidded and the driver lost control.

The car jumped the curb and struck the boy.

Mrs. Gracey spoke with friends in Lincoln Tuesday evening and said her son would be hospitalized for several months as a result of the accident.

The Gracey's have one other child, Heather, 14.

The Rev. Mr. Gracey is now pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Waterbury.

B47 Hits, Explodes In Water

...4 Men Dead

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—A B47 jet bomber carrying a crew of 4 crashed and exploded in Tampa Bay Tuesday night about 300 yards from a thickly populated suburban area of St. Petersburg. No survivors were found.

MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa said the 6-engine medium bomber crashed about 10 minutes after leaving the base on a training flight.

MacDill officials listed as missing Cap. George E. Whitney, 37, the aircraft comlander; Maj. Marcel F. D'Amico, 35, instructor navigator; Lt. Joseph D. Berardi, 25, copilot; and Lt. William C. Bieler Jr., 24, navigator. All lived in Tampa.

One body was recovered by the Coast Guard. Identification had not been established.

Leon Siegfried, a resident of Coquina Key, said it appeared the pilot tried to avoid crashing into the residential area.

Teenagers Held In Triple Burglaries

Greeley, Neb. (UPI)—Four teenage boys were being held here for a series of burglaries in which they hit the same places 3 times in a row and in the same order each time.

Greeley county attorney Harold E. Connors said Tuesday that the 4 men had been staging the burglaries since August. They hit again on Sept. 27 and again Dec. 12.

Connors said the youthful burglars robbed the Racicky Service Station, Swinarski Drug Store, Warner's Locker and Yelks Implement Shop. He said small amounts of money and watches were taken.

The youths entered through windows—the same one each time— with one usually going inside while the others waited outside.

The youths were arrested at their homes Monday night by Sheriff E. J. Finn and Trooper Donald Gribe, criminal investigator for the Nebraska Safety Patrol for this area. Finn and Gribe solved the case, Connors said.

STOCKS SET NEW RECORD

New York (AP) — The stock market groped its way to a new record peak by a narrow margin Tuesday. Trading was fairly active.

Renewed strength by some leading steels and motors as well as substantial gains by pivotal utilities were enough to push market barometers to a new high.

The advance was ragged for the list as a whole, there being plenty of losers.

The Associated Press average rose 30 cents to a new record of $207.80, topping the previous high of $207.70 reached Nov. 20. The industrials and rails rose 10 cents each while utilities advanced 40 cents to a new 1948 high.

Electronics and an assortment of selected issues also did well. Aircrafts and rubbers declined. Nonferrous metals showed a string of modest gains. A few chemicals made decent gains while others displayed small minus signs.

The market was slightly higher at the start and improved until prices were at their best in mid-afternoon. Some gains were clipped by the close.

Once again the market was distracted by the cross-currents of year-end transactions for tax purposes. The word from leading stock market advisory services was cautiously bullish for 1959. At the same time, the steels industry operating rate was scheduled for the highest level in more than a year and the economic outlook remained good.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, 4 fell and one was unchanged. Aluminum Lt.

Of 1,248 issues traded, 507 rose and 480 fell. There were 101 new highs for the year and 6 new lows.

Volume was 3,970,000 shares compared with 3,340,000 Monday.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 1,380,000 shares compared with 1,520,000 Monday.

U.S. government bonds declined for the 8th consecutive session. Losers reached a quarter of a point. Volume continued light. Corporates closed higher in moderately active trading.

Corporate trading increased to $6,980,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $6,890,000 Monday.

Buying Rush Boosts Grain

Chicago (AP)—Speculators on the short side of the grain futures market started a rush Tuesday to buy their way out of delivery commitments on December contracts.

It was nothing like a stampede but it boosted some December contracts rather substantially on the Board of Trade.

A good many traders who had sold the various Decembers short had no doubt that those holding the long side were there, too, mainly for trading purposes. But indications the past few days were that they were in business for the grain itself.

Acceptances of notices of intention to deliver were surprisingly uniform and retenders were few. With trading in December contracts ending on Thursday, the shorts apparently decided the time had come to start evening up before a squeeze developed and they were forced to dig out at prices which could run sharply higher.

The open interest is not especially large but it could have the effect of being large if additional large commitments are closed out on acceptances in first hands.

With that prospect ahead, shorts in wheat, particularly, became nervous and moved in to buy aggressively. December wheat was bid up as much as 1½ cents a bushel while other wheat deliveries were mostly weak and under pressure.

Wheat closed 1½ cents a bushel higher to ⅝ lower. December $1.94⅞-95; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December old-type contract $1.13¾-⅞; oats unchanged to ¾ higher, December .66⅛; rye ¼-⅜ higher, December $1.33-33⅛, and soybeans ⅝ higher to 1 cent lower, January $2.17¼-⅛

New Flag Staffs

Richmond, Va. (UPI) — New twin flagstaffs have arrived at the state Capitol to permit flying the American and Virginia flags at the same level under Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's orders.

State budget director L. M. Kuhn, apparently satisfied the staffs were on the same height, said more staffs had been ordered for 9 state police division headquarters, also included under Almond's rule that the American flag shall not fly above the Virginia flag on state owned buildings.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Retirement Age Of 65 Needs Flexible Revision

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

The best hedge against inflation on the part of senior citizens is to extend their timetable for continuing at work.

Rukeyser

Bernard M. Baruch, octogenarian who served as advisor to six presidents, points out that inflation —the cutting of the buying power of the dollar — hits older folks particularly hard. For inflation strikes at the real value, or buying power, of fixed incomes, including social security benefits, private pensions, annuities and bond investments.

New York City's able park commissioner, Robert Moses, who will be 70 tomorrow, dramatized this problem of older persons when he asked the Board of Estimate for affirmative action permitting him to stick on the job for another two-year period. This privilege can legally be renewed five times until an individual is 80. The test for making an exception to the automatic retirement law is "where advantageous to the public service."

The civil service procedure is for an employe, who wants to stay on after the age of 70, to get approval of the appropriate head of an agency.

The city rule is — strangely enough—more flexible than automatic retirement provisions in private enterprises.

Numerous corporations, with private retirement plans, make quitting mandatory at a fixed age, usually 65. In some instances, retirement is as early as 60, and permissive quitting, with reduced pension accruals, starts earlier.

Three basic factors make this system of automatic retirement an increasingly hot topic.

First, inflation reduces the buying power of fixed dollar savings accumulated for financing retirement, and creates an incentive for remaining on the job for a longer time period.

Secondly, the composition of the total population is changing. As a result of strides in preventive medicine, such as the use of antibiotics, the life expectancy of an infant is 50% greater than it was at the beginning of the century. New ways of fighting infectious diseases are keeping people alive much longer, and as a result persons over sixty constitute a rapidly growing fraction of the total population. Thus, if no offsets are introduced, the ratio of the idle to the productive in the nation will be increasing at a dangerously rapid rate.

Thirdly, national defense and rapid business growth are putting a heavy strain on America's manpower resources. Temporary shifts during recessions, which bring unemployment, momentarily divert attention from this long-term trend. As a phase of this situation, there has been an acute shortage of key personnel, including mathematicians.

Recognizing the unwisdom of arbitrarily retiring personnel in short supply, General Motors, by way of illustration, waived the automatic retirement of engineers at 65.

There is nothing magic about age 65. A pioneer in developing private pension plans, Thomas I. Parkinson, a former president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, told me that in the early stages of pensions, the actuaries gave clients illustrative premium rates at age 65. They did not intend to dictate to employers when to retire employes, and stood ready to quote rates for retirement at other ages such as 60 or 70.

In light of contemporary shifts, top management should take a fresh look at automatic retirement rules.

While the present provision for retirement at 65 prevails, common sense flexibility should permit variations from forced retirement if an employe can meet the subjoined conditions:

First, the individual must take the initiative in applying for permission to remain at work, and must submit a medical statement certifying that he is fit to continue on the job.

Secondly, his immediate superior, or department head, must independently certify that it is desirable to continue the employment.

Thirdly, the board of directors should be required to ratify any variation from the fixed rule.

More enlightened personnel policies toward senior citizens will release for the labor market valuable talent to help in national defense and in accelerating economic growth.

Ike Plugs Extended Schooling

Modern Life 'Too Complex'

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Tuesday life had become so complicated that another year or two should be added to the present high school term.

Experience with one of his own grandchildren, he said, had taught him that modern-day youngsters were so "sophistacated" that 12 years of school no longer provided the minimum education they should have.

He also cautioned working mothers to consider whether they were denying their children opportunities if the mothers held jobs when they did not have to in order to "help keep the wolf from the door."

The President made his comments to members of the National Committee for the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Brotherly Love

Chicago (AP) — In the annual flood of letters addressed to Santa Claus, Post Office workers found this one, carefully printed by a child's hand and unsigned:

"Dear Santa: Please send some presents to my brother. Give mine to him too. He was burned up at school. He is with Jesus in Heven (sic)."

Girl Dies; 3 Ailing After Anti-Freeze Drinking Party

West Newbury, Mass. (UPI)—Fear of being called "chicken" caused anti-freeze to flow like wine at a teen-age party, killing one girl and hospitalizing 3 boys, police revealed Tuesday.

Carol Curry, 17, the hostess and daughter of a former town police chief, died Monday night. An autopsy Tuesday revealed the blonde high school girl succumbed to the effects of downing the automobile anti-freeze.

Carol's distraught father, Buell Curry, said his daughter had invited about 10 friends to the house Saturday night. But about two dozen teen-agers "crashed" the party and located a liquor bottle filled with the deady anti-freeze in the cellar.

Curry said the teen-agers dared each other to drink.

Curry, his wife and son were visiting neighbors during the party.

Lawyers Play Hooky

Omaha (AP)—The president of the Omaha Bar Assn. has written association members scolding them for poor attendance at a recent meeting.

Ninety-three per cent of the membership was absent, said Edwin Cassem, and only one officer besides himself was present.

"This indeed was a miserable showing and reflects an attitude of irresponsibility at all levels of association membership."

—RED CHINA—

Mao Still Head Man

He's Stepping Down From Presidency

Warsaw (AP) — Mao Tze-tung, Communist China's political, economic and governmental boss, is quitting as chief of state next month.

Mao Tze-tung

Peiping confirmed it Tuesday but emphasized that Mao will remain at the helm of Red China as boss of the Chinese Communist Party, said diplomatic advices reaching Warsaw.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi notified foreign diplomats in Peiping that the 65-year-old father of the Red Chinese revolution — though keeping his big job as party chairman —will retire from the presidency upon the expiration of his term in January "to conserve himself to still 'more important tasks.'"

Khrushchev's Hand Seen

Though the retirement was pictured by the Chinese as strictly voluntary, Western envoys in this Polish Communist capital expressed belief that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might have had a hand in it.

They said that if Khrushchev did not precipitate Mao's step-down, they were certain he was pleased with it.

Marine Officer Home From Carrier Duties

Milligan, Neb.—Capt. and Mrs. Roger Barnard and Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Barnard, both of Lincoln, were recent guests at the home of J. J. Klima here while Capt. Bernard is on leave from his post as commanding officer of a contingent of U.S. Marines aboard the U.S. aircraft carrier, Ranger.

Capt. Barnard's duties have been in the Pacific where the Ranger, which was commissioned only a year ago and is the largest ship in the world, is operating.

$18.3 Million Spent For Public Aid

...During Year

A total of $18,394,454.49 in public aid was disbursed by the Nebraska Division of Welfare during the past fiscal year, the division has reported.

Of the total expenditure, $11,366,336.28 were in federal funds, and $7,028,118.21 in state funds.

Since public assistance payments were begun in 1936, the division made its largest share of payments, 69.59%, to recipients of old age assistance.

Aid to dependent children accounted for the second largest share, 17.07%.

Since the program was begun in 1936, total expenditures have amounted to $298,138,413.96. Of this, $155,278,284.90 have been in federal funds, with $142,860,029.06 in state funds.

Boy, 16, Who Killed 5, Is Arraigned

Blames Child's Antics And Mother's Screams

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A tall, pale boy who said a child's bedtime antics and mother's screams drove him into a frenzy of killings, stood with bowed head as the names of his 5 victims were read off Tuesday.

This was at the arraignment of Earl A. Eder, 16, on a multiple-murder charge. He was certified to the Juvenile Division of Superior Court, which will determine whether he is to be tried as an adult or juvenile.

The names of the victims, read from the murder complaint by Municipal Judge Fenton Garfield in suburban El Cajon, were: Mrs. Lois Pendergast, 37, and her children, David, 9; Thomas, 6; Diane, 4, and Allen, 2.

Eder, who slouches a bit from his 6 feet, 2 inches of height bowed his head at the name of David and seemed near tears as the other children were named.

His capture ended a hunt that had started when Thomas Pendergast, 39, a San Diego aircraft pipefitter, found his family murdered Friday evening.

He had been befriended by the Pendergasts and taken into their home 6 weeks earlier. He helped care for the children.

Nebraskan's $500 Check Is South Dakota Headache

Pierre, S. D. (AP) — Even at Christmas time, the state of South Dakota has $500 it doesn't know what to do with.

Last week the state got a check from a Nebraska man who said he was overpaid when he worked for the South Dakota Highway Department many years ago.

Highways Director Charles Dalthrop said the check was mailed by J. J. Fairhead, a wealthy rancher in the Merriman, Neb., area. He said he wasn't able to contact Fairhead because the rancher is vacationing in the west.

South Dakota doesn't have a "conscience fund" as some states do, so Dalthrop said he was asking the attorney general for an opinion on what to do with the money.

Hint Of Delay On Iowa Interstate

Ames, Iowa (AP) — A strong hint of important policy decisions involving construction priorities for Interstate 80 from Atlantic westward arose at the Iowa Highway Commission session Tuesday.

The matter came up quietly on the question of whether to award Prof. Ned Ashton of Iowa City a contract to design a $250,000 railroad underpass at Loveland where Interstate 80 and Interstate 29 will intersect.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Cecil Malone, Atlantic Democrat, the matter was deferred for 30 days.

Commissioner Robert K. Beck, Centerville Republican, then commented that under present arrangements the commission is authorizing design and planning work only on the controversial Neola-Loveland and Neola Council Bluffs segments of Interstate 80.

Council Bluffs interests strongly advocate building of the Neola-Council Bluffs diagonal first.

But Sioux City and Missouri Valley spokesmen want the first go-ahead on the Neola-Loveland segment.

Since the terms of the 3 Republican members of the commission expire July 1 the question is whether they would vote to start construction on the Neola-Loveland segment when the new commission might decide to the contrary.

Pravda Raps Finns

Moscow (AP) — Pravda of the Ukraine charges that Finland violated the Soviet-Finnish peace treaty by publishing Soviet poet Boris Pasternak's novel "Doctor Zhivago." In a blast at the outgoing Helsinki cabinet of K. A. Fagerholm, the Kiev paper said the book should have been suppressed under the treaty ban on anti-Soviet literature.

Johnson Urges An End To 'Outmoded' Secrecy

...Asks Relaxed Travel Ban

New York (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson called Tuesday night for a space-age end to outmoded secrecy policies and a considerable relaxing of bans on free travel.

The Texas Democratic senator used the words "free travel" in the sense of freedom to travel.

He said this would contribute toward America's goal, which he described as "creative peace," and went on to say in an address:

"We can, as a nation, move forward from a position of strength — strength maintained by the capacity of our minds and vision and courage.

Creative Peace

"Through this capacity we can lead the world to a creative pace, for we have now, in the opening world of space, the capabilities to do so. This can be a golden age before us."

The Senate majority leader's talk was to the New York Institute of Technology's Awards and Founders Dinner, at which he received a citation.

He said the vehicles of space will make meaningless the boundaries and barriers between nations.

"We should begin now to reexamine and remove traditional restrictions which no longer serve their intended purpose," Johnson continued.

Inhibitions

"Out moded inhibitions on the free flow of information should be ended. Archaic habits of secrecy should be overcome. Prohibitions against free travel should be materially reduced."

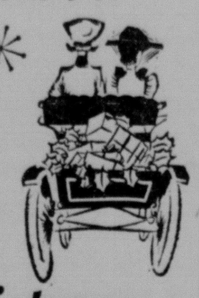

Johnson called for emphasis on efforts to bring people together for conferences among nations on a regional, hemispheric or global basis "to open the way for inevitable pooling of the world's intellect."

In the new world ahead, he said, "there will be a new and higher use for virtually every resource of the earth. There will be a market for the resources of every nation. There will be a place in the community of productive nations for lands today regarded as remote and undeveloped."

Going to move? Then notify the Circulation Dept. so you won't miss your paper. Be sure to give both old and new address.
